

University of Washington Department of Anthropology
Quick Review

Quick Review

Deadline for all application materials to the Department of Anthropology December 15

Deadline for international student applications to Graduate Admissions (Department application deadline remains Dec 15) November 1

Required Tests GRE, TOEFL (for International Applicants)

Required Degree BA or equivalent

Required Funds for Entering International Students Approximately $44,373 (Academic year 2010-2011)
International students must prove their ability to cover these costs before the application for a visa can be issued

Tuition, books, living expenses (non-resident 3 quarters) Approximately $44,373 (academic year 2010-2011)
Please note that 2011-2012 tuition fees will not be available until July 2011.

Tuition, books, living expenses (resident 3 quarters) Approximately $30,032 (academic year 2010-2011)
Please note that 2010-2011 tuition fees will not be available until July 2011.

Possible department funds available to entering students 1 Recruitment Fellowships (for three academic years)
The Olson Fellowship (for one academic year)
2-3 small scholarships (1quarter)
Faculty RA appointments

In addition, the department faculty may nominate applicants for available campus fellowships within their interest area.

Apply Online

If you wish to apply to the Department of Anthropology at the University of Washington, you must complete the online application through the University of Washington Graduate School Admission website: <https://www.grad.washington.edu/applForAdmiss/>