Note 1: Italicized courses are offered more than once and can be taken out of order.

Note 2: Selectives are upper division courses required in each of the following areas: 1) graphics/media; 2) history/theory; 3) building sciences/materials & assemblies/ structures. These courses may be selected from the Department of Architecture, the College and from across the campus from approved course lists maintained by the Department.

Note 3: Students may state selection preferences for studios A400, 401, & 402. Every effort is made to give students their preferred choices.

Note 4: Students may take one studio option (Rome, Furniture or Design Build). The quarters they are given are indicated above. These studios require an application process.

Note 5: Dual Degree students are required to take A431 even though it does not show on the DD Curriculum.
