NEWS FROM CCPH

CCPH Announces Theme of 15th Anniversary Conference, April 18-21, 2012 in Houston, TX! The theme, "Community-Campus Partnerships as a Strategy for Social Justice: Where We've Been & Where We Need to Go" will frame 4 days of skill-building, networking and agenda-setting! Our major conference partner is St. Luke's Episcopal Health Charities, the area's largest charity focused solely on health and well-being and also celebrating its 15th anniversary. The call for proposals will be released in May with a Sept 26 deadline. Visit the conference homepage at <http://bit.ly/hFPPIr> and follow conference news at <http://twitter.com/CCPHconference>

Call for Products of Community-Engaged Projects in Aboriginal & Indigenous Health! In partnership with the Native Research Network (NRN), CES4Health.info is publishing a themed set of products focused on Aboriginal and Indigenous Health in 2012. Individuals from community and academic settings with relevant experience are also invited to apply to be peer reviewers. Reviewer applications are due Sept 1 and products are due Oct 1. A conference call for prospective authors takes place on May 20 and an informational session will be held during the NRN conference, June 27-30 in Niagara Falls, NY. For details, see "hot topics" at <http://CES4Health.info>

A Cookbook as a Peer-Reviewed, Published Product of Community-Engaged Scholarship? Absolutely! The Overtown Cookbook features 31 healthy recipes based on traditional Southern, African American, Latin American & Caribbean dishes. Each recipe was collected from students, teachers and other community members, analyzed by nutritional software programs, edited to use healthy ingredients, and taste tested by high school students. The cookbook also contains evidence-based health content largely written by the students. Check out this latest product published through CES4Health.info at <http://bit.ly/fV63Jk>

Meet Marlynn May, Our New CCPH Featured Member! Marlynn is the Wimberley Scholar in Residence at St. Luke's Episcopal Health Charities in Houston, TX. Since moving to Texas 13 years ago, Marlynn has been collaborating with residents and communities on the Texas-Mexico border doing community health development, teaching and advising budding public health professionals and working in a community-based organization devoted to eliminating health disparities through grant making, research and education. Learn more about Marlynn, his work and his hopes for the future at <http://bit.ly/fkZxtu>. Read about past Featured Members at <http://bit.ly/dFvL1G>.

University of Guelph College of Social and Applied Human Sciences Endorses

CES4Health.info! In its template for assessing community-engaged scholarship, faculty are encouraged to submit products to CES4Health.info for peer review by community and academic experts as one way to document impact. For details, see "hot topics" at <http://CES4Health.info>
