Community-University Partnerships:
Bringing Global Perspectives to Local Action
WWW.CUEXPO2011.CA

Complex social issues require global perspectives to inform local action. Community-University partnerships can be an effective way to stimulate innovative solutions for the pressing concerns within our communities. The potential for such solutions is maximized when diverse partners come together to re-imagine the relationship between the academy and the community, and in the process create new possibilities.

Conference Objectives

- To engage diverse segments of both the community and the university in Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada and around the world to achieve the objectives below.
- To raise awareness about how to implement effective and innovative community-university strategies.
- To showcase how best to incorporate global perspectives in addressing local concerns.
- To create spaces where participants will develop strategies for action on common issues facing local communities.
- To leave a legacy of new and stronger global networks with a renewed understanding of the potential of community-university partnerships as a means for social action.
