

CCPH E-News: October 2007

Dear Colleague,

Below are highlights for Community-Campus Partnerships for Health (CCPH) in the month of October. We hope this helps you stay better connected to our events, activities, and opportunities for involvement!

*This E-News is CCPH's free e-newsletter for non-members. We invite you to become a member of CCPH! Your modest investment allows us to continue to serve as a resource for service-learning, community-based participatory research, and community-campus partnerships more broadly that are working to improve higher education, civic engagement, and the health of communities. Why join CCPH? Find out here: <http://depts.washington.edu/ccph/members.html>

DON'T MISS THESE DEADLINES!

* Call for Papers Due November 1 on Ethical Considerations in Community-Based Participatory Research! This special issue of The Journal of Empirical Research on Human Research Ethics is being co-edited by CCPH senior consultant Nancy Shore, program director Kristine Wong and executive director Sarena Seifer. For details, visit http://depts.washington.edu/ccph/pdf_files/CFP-JERHRE-CBPR.pdf

* Register TODAY for Learning Institutes on Community-Based Participatory Research, November 3-4 in Washington DC. The Community-Based Public Health Caucus is sponsoring two Learning Institutes on Community-Based Participatory Research (CBPR) at this year's American Public Health Association conference.

Session #1008.0, Developing and Sustaining Community-Based Participatory Research Partnerships, is offered on Saturday, November 3 from 9:00am to 5:00pm. The session is an outgrowth of work done by the ASPH/CDC Examining Community-Institutional Partnerships for Prevention Research Group - view the Group's curriculum online at www.cbprcurriculum.info. Two representatives from the National Institutes of Health will share information about CBPR funding opportunities.

Session #2017.0, Community-Based Participatory Research: Working with Communities to Analyze and Interpret Data and Get to Outcomes, is offered on Sunday, November 4 from 8:00am to 11:30am.

Learn more at <http://www.apha.org/programs/education/APHA-Learning+Institute.htm>. You do not need to register for the whole conference if you only want to attend a learning institute.

NEW AT CCPH

* Apply Now for CCPH 11th Summer Service-Learning Institute, July 25-28, 2008!

Designed for both new and experienced service-learning practitioners (faculty, staff and community partners), the institute features national experts in service-learning as presenters and mentors, including health professional faculty and community leaders who have developed successful service-learning partnerships. The institute is held in the Cascade Mountains of Washington State at an ideal setting for learning and reflection. Learn more and download an application at: <http://depts.washington.edu/ccph/servicelearning.html>

* Policy Statements Submitted to NIH. The Community Partner Summit Policy Workgroup and CCPH have responded to two important National Institutes of Health (NIH) requests for public comments: one on the National Center for Research Resources' Strategic Plan and the other on the NIH Peer Review Process. Both policy statements are posted on the Community Partner Summit webpage at <http://depts.washington.edu/ccph/cps.html>

* New CCPH Featured Member ~ William J. Benet! William is the Director of the Greater Rochester Area Community/University Partnership Project (CUPP). In his interview, William describes how he and CUPP are creating and supporting community-campus partnerships to address the severe inequities affecting humankind. William views community-campus partnerships as vital in addressing both inequity and human capacity to make change, "We need to bring together the community and the campus in order to unleash our human potential to reclaim control over our future." Read the full interview at <http://depts.washington.edu/ccph/featuredmember.html>. Read about past featured members at <http://depts.washington.edu/ccph/pastfeaturedmembers.html>.

CATCH UP WITH CCPH AT MEETINGS THIS MONTH!

* October 6-9, 2007, 7th International Research Conference on Service-Learning and Community Engagement in Tampa, FL. CCPH is organizing a pre-conference workshop on Developing and Sustaining Community-Based Participatory Research Partnerships on October 6. Learn more about the conference at <http://www.floridacompact.org/~floridac/irsl/index.html>. Learn more about the curriculum on which the workshop is based at <http://www.cbprcurriculum.info>

* October 8, 2007, NIH Regional Consultation Meeting on Peer Review in New York City, NY. NIH is sponsoring this meeting as part of a broad effort to solicit public input into its peer review process. CCPH member Ann-Gel Palermo will be giving invited remarks on behalf of CCPH and the Community Partner Summit Policy Work Group convened and staffed by CCPH. Register for the meeting at <http://enhancing-peer-review.nih.gov/meetings/regional-registration.html>. For information about a similar meeting being held in San Francisco on October 25, visit <http://enhancing-peer-review.nih.gov/meetings/regional-registration.html>.
