

Subject: [ccph-news] May 2010

Dear colleague,

Below are highlights for Community-Campus Partnerships for Health (CCPH) in the month of May. We hope this helps you stay better connected to our events, activities, and opportunities for involvement!

CATCH UP WITH CCPH AT THESE UPCOMING EVENTS!

*Register Today for May 6 Toronto Meeting, “Sustainability and Community-Based Research (CBR).” The Toronto Community Based Research Network is sponsoring this meeting from 9 am – 11:30 am. CCPH executive director Sarena Seifer is the opening presenter, followed by two CBR teams who will share their sustainability successes and challenges. RSVP to Tekla Hendrickson at tekla@sympatico.ca

*Register Today for June 2 Montreal Meeting, “Advancing a Canadian Knowledge Commons.” CCPH has joined with Community-Based Research Canada, the Canadian Alliance of Community Service Learning and Social Innovation Generation at the University of Waterloo to co-sponsor this free national summit on the role of knowledge in society. For more information, visit <http://knowledgecommons.ning.com/>

*Register Today for June 16 CCPH Conference Call, “CES4Health.info: Publishing Diverse Products of Community-Engaged Scholarship.” The call, from 3:30-5 pm ET, is free for those dialing in from Canada and the US. On the call, you’ll learn about www.ces4health.info, an exciting new outlet for publishing and disseminating training curricula, educational videos, policy reports, online toolkits and other diverse products of community-engaged scholarship! The call will cover how to submit and search for products, how products are reviewed, and how to apply to be a reviewer. #### CCPH CONFERENCE UPDATES!

CCPH’s 11th conference takes place May 12-15, 2010 in Portland, OR

Visit the conference website: <http://bit.ly/aQ398N>

During the conference, follow the latest developments on Facebook and Twitter:

*Film Screening Added to Conference Program! On May 12 from 7-9 pm, we will be screening and discussing the film “Money-Driven Medicine.” Produced by Academy Award winner Alex Gibney (Taxi to the Dark Side; Enron: The Smartest Guys in the Room) and inspired by Maggie Mahar’s acclaimed book of the same name, it offers the only systemic look on film at the economics underlying and often undermining our $2.6 trillion healthcare system. Sponsored by California Newsreel, the film can be used as a community engagement tool to examine the dysfunction in the US healthcare system and devise solutions.

*Improv Performance Added to Conference Program! On May 14 from 6-7:30 pm, we will be featuring the performance, “Improvisational Portrayals of Researcher-Community Collaborations - Challenges & Solutions.” This highly interactive, enjoyable, and informative session will reveal practical solutions to real world issues in community-based research. Sponsored by the Office of Research Integrity in the US Department of Health and Human Services, the performance involves experienced improvisational actors who will bring to life participant-identified challenges and engage the audience in addressing them.

*Save the Date for CCPH’s 2011 Conference! “Community-University Partnerships: Bringing Global Perspectives to Local Action,” May 10-14, 2011 in Waterloo Region, Ontario, Canada. CCPH is fully supporting this Canadian-led conference, known as CUexpo, in lieu of our own major one that year. The call for proposals will be released soon. Find out more at: <http://www.cuexpo2011.ca/>

NEWS FROM CCPH

*Spring 2010 Issue of Progress in Community Health Partnerships Features CCPH! Click here to access the issue: http://www.press.jhu.edu/journals/progress\_in\_community\_health\_partnerships/. CCPH members save 20% on subscriptions at <http://depts.washington.edu/ccph/books.html>. Deputy Editor Darius Tandon co-leads the pre-conference workshop, "Publishing & Disseminating Products of Community-Engaged Scholarship," at the CCPH conference in Portland on May 12: <http://depts.washington.edu/ccph/conf10-preconf.html>

* Online Database Helps Community-Engaged Faculty Members Connect with Mentors & Portfolio Reviewers! Each faculty entry in the database has demographic and biographical information, career planning advice and tips for preparing a strong portfolio. Search the database and/or apply to be listed at <http://www.facultydatabase.info/>.

* Guide Provides Step-by-Step Approach to Service-Learning! In the guide, Community Approaches to Mobilizing Partnerships and Service-Learning, Lorece Edwards and colleagues describe student, faculty and community partner roles, include sample policies and procedures, provide guidance for the reflection component of service-learning, and answer frequently asked questions. The guide is available through CES4Health.info, a new mechanism for peer-reviewed publication and dissemination of diverse products of community-engaged scholarship that come in forms other than journal articles. To access the guide and other products published through CES4Health.info, submit a product, or apply to become a peer reviewer, visit www.CES4Health.info
