Speakers

Lynn Blanchard is faculty in the Department of Health Behavior and Health Education at University of North Carolina Gillings School of Global Public Health. Currently, she oversees development of the Carolina Center for Public Service, including the Public Service Scholars and Faculty Engaged Scholars programs; is a member of the Office of Vice Chancellor for Public Service and Engagement management team and serves as leader of the annual Tar Heel Bus Tour; promoting the concept of engaged scholarship and service. On the national front, Lynn is co-director of Faculty for the Engaged Campus, a CCPH initiative funded by the Fund for Post Secondary Education (FIPSE) of the US Department of Education.

Mrs. Lucille Webb is a founding member of Strengthening the Black Family, Inc. Through her work with this organization, she focuses on developing programs and partnerships that lead to greater economic, health, employment, and educational opportunities for all families. Additionally, Mrs. Webb chairs the executive committee of Project DIRECT, a CDC-funded diabetes research development project. She also serves on the National Advisory Committee for the Kellogg Health Scholars Program and is community director for the Faculty Engaged Scholars program at UNC.
