March 9th Consultation Call with CES4Health.info Editor! CES4Health.info was launched in November 2009 as a unique mechanism for peer-reviewed publication and dissemination of diverse products of CES products (e.g., videos, policy briefs, toolkits). Its rigorous peer review process helps to ensure the publication of high quality products that can "count" toward faculty promotion and tenure and be used or adapted in other communities working on similar issues. During the call, authors can speak with Editor Cathy Jordan about their products, the submission and review process, and any questions or issues they may have. There is no registration fee, but advance registration is required at <http://bit.ly/gylCG>

Early Bird Registration Rates End April 1st for International Partnerships Institute! Registration is now open at <http://bit.ly/h062ht> for the CCPH co-sponsored 2nd International Institute on Partnerships, "From Reciprocity to Collective Transformation: Achieving the Potential of Community-Campus Partnerships," hosted by Portland State University, May 23-25 in Portland, OR. For more info, visit <http://bit.ly/caNqqV>

Abstracts Due April 15th for North American Housing & HIV/AIDS Research Summit! CCPH joins National AIDS Housing Coalition & Ontario HIV Treatment Network as partners in the 6th Summit, Sept 21-23 in New Orleans! The theme is Eliminating HIV Health Disparities. Details: <http://bit.ly/gZl8Ns>

Call for Papers for 3rd Annual Community-Engaged Research Workshop! CCPH joins the Journal of Empirical Research on Human Research Ethics (JERHRE), University of Houston Hobby Center for Public Policy & Public Responsibility in Medicine and Research in cosponsoring this Oct 27-28 workshop in Houston. The theme is "Communication in Community-Engaged Research." If you're interested in presenting, contact JERHRE Editor Joan Sieber at joan.sieber@sbcglobal.net or 510-538-5424 to explore how your idea may fit into the emerging agenda. NEWS FROM CES4HEALTH.INFO

Mapping Memories Website Explores Refugee Youth Experiences. The latest product to be peer-reviewed and published through <http://CES4Health.info> is the result of a collaborative multi-media research-creation program with refugee youth that explored how innovative new media techniques can be used to solicit unique artistic expression, while empowering participants in the process. The website is a vibrant peer platform for youth with refugee experience to share stories with each other and to recognize they are not alone as they grapple with mental health issues connected to isolation and the range of emotions that surface as they adapt to a new life.
