

Canadian Alliance for Community Service-Learning

l'Alliance canadienne pour l'apprentissage par le service communautaire

Pan-Canadian CSL Symposium

Friday, 9 October, 2009

9:00 am – 4:30 pm

Westin Ottawa Hotel

Held in conjunction with the Ninth Annual International Research Conference on Service-Learning and Community Engagement, this will be the third biennial national symposium on community service-learning in Canada, organized by the Canadian Alliance for Community Service-Learning and sponsored by the J.W. McConnell Family Foundation and the Faculty of Public Affairs at Carleton University.

While focussing on key learnings and issues of community service-learning from the Canadian experience and perspective, the symposium is also open to IRCSLCE delegates as a pre-conference workshop. The Symposium will feature presentations and discussions on key learnings from the development and implementation of CSL in Canadian universities and colleges, how theories of change have adapted and evolved over time, how community service-learning can contribute to the solution of community issues in difficult economic times, and an exploration of policy change at the federal, provincial, and institutional levels that is needed to fund and support this work.

A special noon hour panel discussion will feature international experts in service-learning and community-engagement providing their perspective on the conference theme: Research for What? Making Inquiry Matter and will also be “broadcast” live by audio conference call as one of our TeleLearning Seminars.

Cost is $50 for individuals or faculty, $25 for full time students – Register now to reserve your place at the National CSL Symposium:

https://www.surveymonkey.com/s.aspx?sm=MeQiJsMQ7lszJ7ivyjZiQw_3d_3d

More detailed speaker and program information will be provided closer to the date. In the meantime, please contact us if you have ideas or suggestions for topics and content.

Larry Gemmel

Director

Canadian Alliance for Community Service-Learning

larry@communityservicelearning.ca