

Position: Summer Research Assistant - Chemical Analysis of Soils & Waters

Date: March 28, 2014

Position Summary:

The Ecosystems Center of the Marine Biological Laboratory seeks applicants for a full-time summer research assistant for a project that examines the effects of the environmental impacts of increased fertilizer application in sub-Saharan Africa. The individual will perform basic laboratory analytical procedures.

Additional Information:

Duties include chemical analysis of water and soil samples, quality checking and organization of data and preliminary data analysis. Some laboratory skills and familiarity with spreadsheet software required.

Basic Qualifications:

Applicants must have a BS or have significant course work in chemistry, ecology or environmental science or related fields. Candidate would be expected to live in the Woods Hole region.

Preferred Qualifications:

Some background in chemistry, environmental science or related fields is preferred. Demonstrated skills in attention to laboratory detail, data organization analysis preferred.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

You will be required to upload the following documents during the online application process:

- 1- Cover Letter
- 2- Resume/CV
- 3- References (list of 3 with contact information)
- 4- Unofficial Transcripts

APPLY ONLINE: <<https://mbl.simplehire.com>><https://mbl.simplehire.com>

The Marine Biological Laboratory is an Affirmative Action / Equal Opportunity / Disabled / Veterans Employer.