

TEMPORARY LECTURER MINERALOGIST/PETROLOGIST, DEPARTMENT OF GEOLOGY, BAYLOR UNIVERSITY

The Department of Geology at Baylor University invites applications for a Temporary Lecturer in Mineralogy and Petrology for the 2014-2015 academic year. Applicants with a Ph.D. in geology at the time of appointment are preferred; however, current Ph.D. students nearing completion of the Ph.D. will also be considered. The Department currently consists of 16 geoscientists (<http://www.baylor.edu/Geology/>).

Teaching: We seek an individual with a strong commitment to excellence in teaching, and require that he/she teach Mineralogy during the fall 2014 semester and Petrology during the spring 2015 semester. In addition, the individual may also have the option to teach one or two freshman-level introductory classes during both the fall and spring semesters.

Application Process: Send letter of application, including statement of teaching and research interests, curriculum vitae, original transcripts, and the names and contact information for three references to: Jamie Ruth, Assistant Office Manager, Department of Geology, Baylor University, One Bear Place #97354, Waco, TX 76798-7354 (Tel: 254-710-2361; e-mail: jamie_ruth@baylor.edu). Applications will be reviewed beginning April 15, 2014 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be submitted by June 20, 2014.
