

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR - TENURE TRACK - TOXICOLOGY. The Department of Zoology at Oklahoma State University (<http://zoology.okstate.edu>) seeks a scholar investigating the mechanisms of toxicity. The successful candidate is expected to establish an externally funded research program, and demonstrate the ability to work collaboratively with existing strengths at OSU (including the Interdisciplinary Toxicology Program; <https://toxicology.okstate.edu>). Responsibilities will include successfully mentoring graduate students, and effectively teaching undergraduate and graduate courses. Candidates should have post-doctoral research experience, teaching experience, and success in obtaining extramural funding. To apply, e-mail a single pdf document containing: 1) a letter of intent, 2) curriculum vitae, and 3) separate research and teaching statements, to zoologysearch02@okstate.edu. Candidates must also arrange to have three letters of recommendation emailed to the address above. Application review will begin December 3rd 2014 with employment slated for August 2015; hiring is subject to available funding. Oklahoma State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/E-verify employer committed to diversity and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against based on race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status. OSU is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and desires priority referrals of protected veterans for its openings. OSU-Stillwater is a tobacco-free campus.
