From the Director

Here we go again! Another Fall and lots of changes at CSSCR. We have five new people, seventeen new machines, lots of new software, a new color printer and we are ready for another year of support. We have upgraded the computer projection equipment in the Center and have been able to make the instructional support services we offer more elegant. If you would like to use computers in your course, please drop by the Center and we can discuss how CSSCR might be able to help!

The U.S. Census 2000 files are beginning to be released. As each product is released we will post the raw data, documentation and statistical format files on our web site.

The CSSCR Drop-in lab (Savery 143) and the Faculty/Grad Research room (Savery 139) are now equipped with very fast dual CPU computers. So if your present machine is not crunching those numbers as fast as you would like, you might try one of these new machines.

Well, have a great quarter and as always if you need computer help contact me and we will see if we can help!

FRED NICK

Introduction to Framemaker

Framemaker was invented to publish books, but is also a great general page layout design program. Although difficult to learn, Framemaker has so many features and is so flexible in its multichannel publishing capabilities, you will want to make the extra effort to learn it.

Instructor: Dixielynn Gleason
Date: Tuesday, November 6
Time: 8:30AM to 9:30AM
Place: Savery 149

Introduction to Excel

In this hands-on course, students will learn the fundamentals of using Excel including: data entry, basic computation, elementary charts and graphs, and neophyte statistical functions. This course assumes no prior knowledge of Excel.

Instructor: Nadia Morgen
Date: Thursday, November 8
Time: 3:30PM to 4:30PM
Place: Savery 135

Introduction to Stata 6.0

Stata is a software program for statistical analysis, data management and graphical output. In this hands-on class we will explore these capabilities and much, much more.

Instructor: Tim Moses
Date: Friday, November 9
Time: 2:00PM to 3:30PM
Place: Savery 137

Introduction to ArcView 8.2

ArcView 8.1 is the new and transformed version of ArcView 3.2. It's the easiest part of ArcGIS software package. It consists of three desktop applications: ArcMap, ArcCatalog, and ArcToolbox. This class will cover the basic features of ArcView8.2. It will get you familiar with the environment of the new software.

You will also learn how to display data, conduct queries, perform simple spatial operations, and make maps.

Instructor: Ta Liu
Date: Thursday, November 15
Time: 3:30PM to 5:00PM
Place: Savery 149

Introduction to SPlus

SPlus is a statistical package for statisticians as well as social scientists. This class will cover some basics of SPlus, including importing data, creating graphs, editing graphs, and running statistical models. Both menu options and the command line will be introduced.

Instructor: Emory Morrison
Date: Friday, November 16
Time: 1:00PM to 2:30PM

Introduction to SPSS

This introduction will cover the logic and instincts of SPSS. You will learn the rudiments of tracking down the statistical meaning in your data. Though you may retrace your steps a few times, this lecture will give you the foundational boots to slog through the swamp of statistical SPSS Jargon.

Instructor: Jeanette Burkett
Date: Monday, November 19
Time: 4:00PM to 5:30PM
Place: Savery 135

Introduction to EViews

EViews provides a user-friendly interface for data analysis. It does not require extensive knowledge of programming and is easy to learn. Although the software is econometric-oriented, people from other fields can still benefit from learning EViews.

Instructor: Yi-Chi Chen
Date: Tuesday, November 20
Time: 1:00PM to 3:00PM
Place: Savery 137

Introduction to Census 2000

This seminar will provide an overview of the structure of Census 2000 and the major data products that will be released in the next three years. We will show you how to acquire the newly released 2000 redistricting file, Summary File 1 and the TIGER/Line 2000 files, and talk about what CSSCR will help disseminate other Census 2000 data products and related materials in the coming years.

Instructor: Grace Ning Gu
Date: Tuesday, November 20
Time: 2:30PM to 3:30PM
Place: Savery 149
