

7) What, in your opinion, if you had to choose only one thing is Mr. Poch's best quality as a teacher? What is one thing that you feel he does well?

He steps away from being authoritative and breeches on interactive. He tries to connect with his students to teach, not act on a hierarchical level.

You're funny. It makes the class a lot more enjoyable. Also how you always make time to answer individual questions. You explain things really well.

Compassion. You are very clearly a caring person who is willing to do whatever is necessary to help out your students.

Mr. Poch is more dedicated to teaching than any teacher I have ever had. His enthusiasm may seem over-the-top to some, but that ignores that he really enjoys what he does.

I really liked how you actually read & wrote responses on my HW. The responses were really thoughtful & encouraging. Most teachers don't take the time to do that, or just keep it to themselves. Keep doing this!!!

Mr. Poch is really good at relating to his students and getting his points across in fun assignments. He is not a very good speller but then again neither am I.

He makes an excellent effort in getting to know & understand each individual student's needs & desires. He made himself more a "friend" than a "teacher," which is quite a refreshing change.
