4. GPSS SPOTLIGHT: JUDICIAL COMMITTEE 5:36 pm

   Elloise Kim (Secretary) invites the Judicial Committee members to introduce themselves: John Lurie (Astronomy), Adam Bell (Education), Caleh Knapp (English), Brandon Ray (Atmospheric Sciences), and Jay Eckard (Drama).

   The Judicial Committee presents several multiple-choice questions pertaining to the Bylaws for Senate members to answer as a warm up activity. They provide a Bylaws Overview and list the various articles within it. They also discuss some changes, which they will present in greater depth during the first meeting spring quarter. The most notable change is that the committees will be downsized. The Executive, Judicial, Elections, Finance and Budget, Ad Hoc, and Special Committees will remain within Article VI for they are essential to the structure and function of the GPSS, and the rest will be extracted into a memorandum respectively. This will allow the duties/responsibilities of each committee to be amended more easily to suit student needs. They have also fixed any grammatical errors and amended the gendered pronouns.

   Q&A

   - Yasmeen Hussain (Biology) asks whether the committees will automatically be converted into memorandums or if this is something the officers will have to do every year. She expresses concern that moving things to the policy memorandum that can be approved without the Senate, will result in those committees not being taken seriously.

A Resolution to Protect LGBTQI Rights under Laws Against Discrimination

Kirby Conrod
Title: RESOLUTION TO PROTECT LGBTQI RIGHTS UNDER LAWS AGAINST DISCRIMINATION

Sponsored by: Kirby Conrod (Linguistics) and Adam Bell (Learning Sciences)

Written by: Kirby Conrod (Linguistics) and Erin Adam (Political Science)

Resolution Number: 06. 15-16

WHEREAS in 2006, the Washington State Legislature amended the Washington Law against Discrimination (through the Anderson-Murray Anti-Discrimination Act)\(^1\) to include sexual orientation and gender identity or expression as protected classes under the law; and

WHEREAS the Washington State Human Rights Commission (WA HRC) is the agency that administers and enforces the law, and is tasked with creating rules that provide clarity on how the law should be interpreted; and

WHEREAS this has been the duty of the Washington State Human Rights Commission since it was first established in 1949; and

WHEREAS the Commission underwent an extensive public process starting in 2012 to draft the rules regarding the 2006 amendment of the WLAD contained in Chapter 162-32 of the Washington Administrative Code (WAC)\(^2\) that included public workshops and forums; and

WHEREAS in recent weeks six bills (HB 2589, HB2 2782, HB 2935, HB 2941, SB 6443, and SB 6458) have been proposed in the state legislature, and two advanced in the Senate and passed out of committee (SB 6443 and SB 6585\(^3\)), that aim to repeal or alter a portion of these rules based on a misunderstanding of what these rules do and a lack of knowledge or awareness about the transgender community; and

WHEREAS the WA HRC rules are necessary to address unequal treatment and discrimination that the lesbian, gay, bisexual, and, in particular, the transgender community, faces in many walks of life; and

WHEREAS a nationwide study of transgender people in 2011 found that 44% experienced denial of service or equal treatment in public accommodations and 53% experienced harassment in a place of public accommodation\(^4\); and

A Resolution Advocating for Greater Coordination among Mental Health Professionals of Differing Specialties at UW

Joseph Telegen
Title: RESOLUTION ADVOCATING FOR GREATER COORDINATION AMONG MENTAL HEALTH PROFESSIONALS OF DIFFERING SPECIALITIES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

Sponsored by: Joseph Telegen (English), Giuliana Conti (Music), Matthew Childs (Germanics)

Written by: Joseph Telegen (English), Matthew Childs (Germanics)

Resolution Number: 07. 15-16

WHEREAS the need for improved mental health services at the University of Washington is common knowledge, yet frequently lamented without reform; and

WHEREAS a recently introduced resolution in the ASUW Senate (Resolution #26 of the 22nd Senate session; entitled “A Resolution in Support of Mental Health Resources on Campus”) acknowledges this need and details many of the specific reasons for needed mental health reform; and

WHEREAS the aforementioned ASUW resolution focuses on increased staffing in the university’s counseling center, as opposed to all elements of mental health professionalization at the University of Washington; and

WHEREAS not only the counseling center, but the professionals and educators at Hall Health, UW Medicine, and the UW Mindfulness Project (among others) are continually engaged in efforts to promote and enhance mental health in the UW community; and

WHEREAS these assorted professionals are not continually in contact with one another due to the variety of clients they serve, and greater communication between these entities can only enhance the effectiveness of the whole;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE GRADUATE AND PROFESSIONAL STUDENT SENATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON:

THAT the various communities listed above are encouraged to foster a continually interactive mental health ecosystem at the University of Washington; and

THAT an element of this increased communicative activity will be a periodic meeting of appointed representatives from each community (the frequency and setting of said meetings to be decided by these representatives), discussing points of mutual interest; and

1 https://depts.washington.edu/asuwsen/ora/ResolutionView/id=158129
2 These communities will be listed in an upcoming draft of this resolution for comprehensive purposes.
3 I have, at the moment, mostly anecdotal evidence in support of this claim, such as my own experiences communicating with the professionals at Hall Health and a recent discussion with Julia ___ from UW Mindfulness during a Finance and Budget committee meeting, both of which attest to the lack communication. I will lean on Kelly Edwards to make this claim more persuasively in future drafts.
