Minutes approved without objection.

Spotlight - Interim President Ana Mari Cauce
Alice Popejoy (President): Without further adue, I would like to introduce our Interim President, former Provost, and former Professor who's been at UW for over 30 years (no, not quite, 29) (laughs) She is very committed to the University of Washington. Professionally, it's been an honor and pleasure working with Ana Mari Cauce on the Provost Advisory Council for Students and personally I just really enjoy interacting with her. So, first on our agenda- Ana Mari Cauce.

Ana Mari Cauce (Interim President): Thank you for inviting me. ASUW usually does this a couple times in the year, but I think it's been a long time since I last talked to GPSS. I want to spend quite a bit of time on Q&A because I am not sure what it is that you want to hear about. But I would just say a little bit about me: it's always been about me of course (laughs) I have been here for a very long time. I first stepped on a campus in my late 20's as a professor. My first job was at the University of Delaware. I was on the East coast, which is where I thought I belonged, I was near New York, etc. And pretty soon I realized, when they say "it's near here, it's near there" it really means it's in the middle of nowhere. (laughs) That's what they really

News and Information

David L. Eaton, associate vice provost for research and professor in the School of Public Health at the University of Washington, has been selected as dean of the Graduate School, effective March 15, UW President Michael K. Young and Provost Ana Mari Caute announced today. The appointment is subject to approval by the Board of Regents.

“Throughout his career at the UW, David Eaton has proven himself to be a gifted educator, a consummate scientist and an excellent administrator,” said Young. “Robust programs in graduate education are key to the future of higher education, discovery and innovation, as well as to our economic future. We couldn’t have a better suited person to lead graduate education than Dave Eaton.”

Eaton is a professor in the Department of Environmental and Occupational Health Sciences and also with the Public Health Genetics Program. He has directed the Center for Ecogenetics and Environmental Health since 1995. He has been an associate vice provost since 2006.
