Cost

For the Spring 2006 Greece program the program fee of $4,000 will cover program costs, three meals a day in the student cafeteria, housing and bus transportation, food, and overnight accommodations for all field trips. The $300 deposit is included in the program fee. Students must also pay the IPE Concurrent Enrollment fee of $200 to the office of International Programs and Exchanges. The program fee does not cover: IPE fee, personal travel, travel to or from Greece, or expenses. The CHID Program reserves the right to change the program fee based upon dollar devaluation or severe inflation. If such a change occurs, students will be notified of the increase and options will be provided.

Refund: In order to provide housing and other necessities for students, the program must make many payments in advance, for which the program participants are responsible. By confirming participation in the program, the student agrees to make all program payments in a timely manner. The $300 deposit is non refundable. Students withdrawing from the program 60 days prior to the start of the program will be refunded the remainder of the program payments. Students withdrawing from the program during the final 60 days before the start of the program are responsible for their portion of any unrecoverable payments. There is no possible refund after the start of the program. Notice of withdrawal must be made in writing to both CHID and Office of International Programs and Exchanges

SPRING QUARTER 2006
CHID and Hellenic Studies offer a program in:

IOANNINA GREECE

March 26-May 30

Greece Spring 2006

Greece is the birthplace of democracy and Western Civilization in General. It is located at the crossroads between Europe, Asia, and Africa.

Politically stable and economically developed, Greece is the only country in the Balkans and the Eastern Mediterranean region that is a full member of the European Union, including participation in the Euro zone. As such, Greece plays a significant role in guiding her neighbors in their ambition to join the European Union.

Sunbathed, filled with antiquities, surrounded by blue waters, Greece is one of the most beautiful countries and destination of millions of tourists annually.

During the spring quarter of 2006, the Greek program will focus on the study of Greek language and culture, and Greece and Albania during the age of nationalism.

The program will take place at the University of Ioannina in the city of Ioannina, which is located in the Northwest part of Greece. Ioannina, with a population of approximately 100,000, will provide the students with memorable opportunities to trace the long history of Greece. They will visit thousand year-old theatres and other Greek and Roman sites in the surrounding area, Byzantine churches, remnants of the Ottoman rule, and places where the Greeks of modern times made sacrifices in the defense of freedom. At the same time they will experience life in contemporary Greece.

Course Description

The program will take place from the evening of March 26 to the morning of May 30. Due to Greek Easter Holidays, students have the option of traveling the country on their own between April 20th and 30th. Study begins again May 1st. During the first nine weeks, instruction will take place at the University of Ioannina in the following three courses:

Euro 111 - Modern Greek Language, 5 credits;

Euro 399 - Greek culture, 5 credits;

CHID 498 – Regional Tensions:

Greece and Albania during the Age of Nationalism, 5 credits

The last five days will be devoted to a final tour around the country visiting selected archeological sites such as Delphi, Corinth, and Mycenae, ending in Athens.
