

Events

FEMINIST LEGACIES / FEMINIST FUTURES

A conference on philosophical and theoretical trends in feminist scholarship on the occasion of the 25th Anniversary of Hypatia: A Journal of Feminist Philosophy

October 22-24, 2009

Simpson Center for the Humanities
University of Washington, Seattle

Hypatia: A Journal of Feminist Philosophy has been published as an independent journal since 1986; Volume 25 will appear in 2010. This is a significant anniversary for the journal and for feminist philosophy—an opportunity to reflect on the formation and influence of feminist philosophies across the disciplines, to take stock of emerging trends, and to consider where feminist philosophy is headed in the next 25 years. Because the editorial office is currently hosted by the Simpson Center for the Humanities on the UW Seattle campus, we take this as an opportunity to recognize and celebrate the rich traditions of feminist scholarship that flourish at the University of Washington.

Conference registration and preliminary program: www.simpsoncenter.org/hypatiaconference

The following conference events are free and open to the public, with no registration required:

Keynote Panel: Feminist Philosophy in Interdisciplinary Perspective

October 23, 5:00-6:30 pm ~ Kane 220

Feminist scholars at the University of Washington consider the legacies of feminist philosophy in relation to their own fields.

Chair: Carolyn Allen, English

Eva Cherniavsky, English

Judith A. Howard, Sociology and Women Studies; Divisional Dean, Social Sciences

Barbara Reskin, Sociology

Janelle Taylor, Anthropology

Kathleen Woodward, English; Director, Simpson Center for the Humanities

Gala Reception

October 23, 6:30-8:30 pm ~ Kane 225, Walker Ames Room

This conference is presented by Hypatia and sponsored by the Simpson Center for the Humanities, with support from the Department of Philosophy, Program on Values, Wiley-Blackwell Publishers, Pacific Society for Women in Philosophy, and Women Studies.