

GENERAL STUDIES 391

Supervised Study in Selected Fields

COURSE INFORMATION

GEN ST 391 is a Credit/No Credit course designed for students who wish to pursue faculty-supervised independent study in areas outside their major departments or along lines not otherwise provided for by existing courses. Much independent study within a single discipline, and most such work within a student's major department, may best be accomplished through departmental independent study courses (e.g., 499 courses). You will be expected to have exhausted the available formal courses relevant to your chosen subject and to have prepared for undertaking specialized, independent study. If you have questions, you may wish to discuss your proposal with the GEN ST 391 coordinator before completing the application.

PROCEDURES

Students wishing to enroll in GEN ST 391 must complete the following steps prior to registration for the course:

1. Find a faculty member knowledgeable in the area of your proposed study who is willing to serve as a sponsor.
2. Come to an agreement with your faculty sponsor about:
 - a. the topic, scope, and academic objective of your study
 - b. how you plan to pursue the study
 - c. the amount and kind of supervision required
 - d. how you will document your work.
3. Agree with your sponsor on the amount of credit to be earned. You must devote approximately three hours of work per week for each credit. Students normally enroll for 1 to 5 credits in a given quarter. A maximum of 15 credits of GEN ST 391 may be applied toward graduation.
4. Fill out the application form on the reverse side.
5. Have your sponsor sign the completed application.
6. Return your completed application to Ken Etkorn, 220H Mary Gates Hall. You will be contacted if there are problems with your application, otherwise you will be registered for the course.

No registrations will be approved after the official change of registration period at the beginning of the quarter. Your proposal, signed by your faculty sponsor, must be submitted by then.

Submit completed application to the GEN ST 391 Coordinator:
