

WOULD CREATE COURT TO TEST ALL STRIKES

Roth Introduces a Bill Pattered After New Zealand Law

SETTLEMENT BASED ON LIVING COSTS

Strikes, Blacklisting and Boycotts to be Cut Out

OLYMPIA, Feb. 14.—Creation of a general welfare court, to settle industrial disputes, was asked of the legislature in a sweeping bill introduced in Representative Booth of Hollingham today.

It is patterned after the New Zealand law and gives the way for compulsory arbitration by labor and capital units that register for jurisdiction.

The court would be composed of a justice of the supreme court, chairman of a corporation, a labor union, and the chairman of a public utility commission. The commissioner of labor would be an outside investigator of the court.

Cost of living would be a principal basis for setting down the range of profiteering could be punished.

Strikes, blacklisting, boycott and monopoly would be subject to administrative decisions. The law would give labor and capital to come down after a hearing and tell us whether or not we have the right.

The measure in no way prohibits collective bargaining with employers, registers with the court if it takes hold where the court's jurisdiction. Labor units automatically are registered with the court.

PURSE RECOVERED IN QUICK TIME

Quick action upon the part of J. Dingman, of the Workers' Solidarity League, and a Baltimore woman, recovering a purse of a Miss Pitzer, who left her money on a car, led her car at Third avenue and Union street and after the car had started discovered her loss.

The money was recovered in quick time. The car was stopped and the driver was asked if he could assist, and was told that the car had been stolen.

The driver was arrested and the purse in the possession of a woman passenger, and was returned to her.

Bethany Baptist Brotherhood Reaffirms Stand for Justice

ORGANIZATION IS PURELY AMERICAN

P.-I. Suppressed Resolution Favoring Justice for Worker

Registering its unanimous disapproval of the Post-Intelligencer's refusal to publish a resolution adopted by the Seattle Baptist Brotherhood, "composed of 100 per cent Americans," has reaffirmed its stand for the laborer and has sent the following letter to the Post-Intelligencer to each of the Seattle newspapers:

Monday, January 27th of this year, the Seattle Baptist Ministerial Association, in a resolution affirming the declaration of the Northern Baptist convention of 1912-13 in favor, among other things, of the shortest possible working day, the abolition of child labor, and the most intelligent and just use of the products of industry.

This resolution, we understand, was refused adoption in the columns of the Post-Intelligencer. The resolution was adopted by the Bethany Baptist church, composed of 100 per cent American citizens, through registers its unanimous disapproval of the action of the Post-Intelligencer.

Little Girl Asks Mayor to Return Her Bond Money

On November 10, 1917, little Mildred Broder, then four years old, daughter of the late John Broder, of 2425 Warsaw street, attracted the attention of the good folk of Seattle by investing her savings, amounting to $400 in the municipal street railway extension bonds to provide funds for the continuation of the line to Ballou.

Little Mildred being the first bond buyer.

J. I. Smith, an American switchman 24 years old, is held on an open charge in the city jail, having been arrested at the postoffice 9 o'clock Thursday night on complaint and with the assistance of J. Schouweiler, proprietor of the Telma apartments, and a police-Smith with holding him up at the point of a gun and flashing a charge-Smith in pretense of placing an order there.

This occurred at the San Telma hotel, where Smith entered and pretended that he knew there was liquor in the apartment house, telling Schouweiler to get ready to go down to the station. Then he went to the telephone and pretended to call up the police.

Smith again flashed his star and did not proceed to the station, but well as thought of a scheme to put up with Smith.

TO CONFER ON SKAGIT SITE

City Officials Will Discuss Project Next Monday

Next Monday afternoon a special conference of city officials will be held at the County-City building to discuss the Skagit project in several phases of which are in decided controversy among the city officials.

The proposition to hold a conference developed through a wide difference of opinion at the meeting of the city officials committee of the council on Thursday over an ordinance proposed to appropriate $25,000 for continuation of the investigation.

Another matter that disturbed the committee of the council was the $75,000 deficit in the fund for the elevated railway, and city Engineer Dimock's report that the amount in his fund must be paid by February 25, while the committee could not make it available for that amount might be drawn and used for the purpose.

The $400,000 street railway utility bonds offered for sale last week are attracting no bidders, so the committee will go to the finance committee for advice and possible solution of the problem.

Mr. Morgan said so far as construction to a finish is concerned, on behalf of the strike committee, Homer Young and J. J. Mulligan of Bolshakoff, Iron Shipbuilders and Hepler & Lewis, international officers, have ordered the strikers' Pacific coast members to return to work on penalty of losing their charter.

If that were true, continued Mulligan, it is an intentional effort they would have heard of it.

Mulligan stated that there is not the least probability that Attorney Heever Ayimore will succeed in securing a charter for a new boiler-makers' union to split the present organization, and most of the strikers who have returned to work on the shipyards have not returned.

STRIKERS NO ORDERED BACK TO THEIR WORK

A. P. Mulligan Denies Report Regarding Pacific Coast Men

There is not a word of truth in the report that A. P. Mulligan of Bolshakoff, Iron Shipbuilders and Hepler & Lewis, international officers, have ordered the strikers' Pacific coast members to return to work on penalty of losing their charter.

If that were true, continued Mulligan, it is an intentional effort they would have heard of it.

JIMMY DARCY FLOORS FLYNN

Pueblo Fireman Put Out in Second Round at Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 14.—Jimmy Darcy went down for a count of nine in the second round of his bout here last night with Jimmy Flynn of Portland. A wicked right floored the Pueblo fireman.

Darcy rained a varied assortment of punches and jabs on his opponent throughout the six-round battle, beating him every inch of the way. He won an easy decision. Father Time has showed a flash in the first round and handed him one and only clean blow in the fourth. Muff Bronson knocked out Lee Johnson in the first round.

Bill Mitchell of Seattle and Kid Herman of San Jose went six rounds to a draw. Mitchell took the count in the second, but made a wrong decision. Darcy, who was a decision over Harry Anderson of Seattle. Despite the fact he was out-weighted five pounds, the local brawler had the Seattle scrapper on the defensive all the time. The first five rounds were won by Mitchell but it all over Anderson's Johnny Canall and Lackey Morrow staged the curtain raise, a good draw.

Avoiding Colds
Mrs. E. T.—Neither the chest pain or the cold chest cough would save you from colds, though the latter might help. Take long walks and other exercise. Keep your feet warm and wear boots with thick soles. Rubbing for 10 minutes will improve the circulation. Change your clothes if you are wearing a warm hat.

HAL CHASE

The Hal Chase case—a celebrat-ed case in baseball—was heard before Judge Hendler, president of the National League, in New York, and after two sessions, together lasting five hours of time, the president of the National League announced that he would give a verdict in due time. Due time will be long enough for the chief executive of the league to go thoroughly over the testimony as submitted yesterday. Chase, charged with attempting to influence the results of ball games otherwise than legitimately, was a leading witness for himself, and was on the stand most of the session. He was present throughout the hearing, often giving his side of the hearing testimony of others.

SPAIN PROMISES WORKERS' DEMANDS

MADRID, Spain.—Industrial unrest continues to seethe in Spain. The fact that constitutional guarantees have been suspended in Barcelona has added fuel to the flames. The government, to meet the extraordinary reforms, has determined to carry through the necessary reforms, including the regulation of hours of work, the prohibition of child labor, and the government is thus making the necessary reforms with the organizing and are making plans for a general strike.

KEEPING FIT

Dr. MILD—Seattle Union Record readers are invited to comment on any article appearing in this column. All communications should be addressed to "MILCO," Seattle Union Record.

Good Circulation

A proper amount of exercise includes the organs of the body, and their work with more vigor. When we feel cold or a weak walk, a lively game will start the blood and make us feel warm. A daily bath followed by brisk rubbing of the skin with a coarse towel promotes the circulation. Many people are too fond of automobiles and elevators, walking in the best of exercise, and going up and down stairs bring many muscles in play which otherwise would be dormant.

How many people hurt and ache after the exertion of going up two flights of stairs, but if they would do this twice daily, the circulation would be better, their step would be lighter, and they would remain young in spite of fleeting time. Recovery, exercise is, however, should be avoided. Like any machine, the heart may be strained by violent efforts. Many of the veins lie so near the surface of the body that the flow of blood through them is easily hindered by pressure. No article of clothing should be worn tight enough to stop the flow of blood. Tight garters by checking the circulation, often cause varicose veins and chilblains. Tight collars and clothing about the neck may cause dizziness and a feeling of fullness in the head. Bands, belts, corsets, straps and even boots and shoes, may be worn tight enough to hinder the free circulation of blood in various parts of the body. The health of the blood, like that of any other part of the body, may be promoted by a nourishing diet, pure air, and a proper amount of rest and of clothing.

TACOMANS TO STAND PAT BY STRIKE ACTION

TACOMA, Feb. 14.—Boiler-makers, iron outfit and helpers at a meeting held Thursday afternoon in Engler's hall reaffirmed their former strike action and resolved to stand by the Trades Union Council and fight it out to a finish. The meeting was called by seven members of the union who signed the town. The meeting was called to order by the number of embarking questions, which had been printed and distributed among the members. These questions asked for the strike of rooms occupied by the anti-strike force in the Tacoma hotel who attenders private meetings held in these rooms. Who paid for the services of stenographers. They did not work of these meetings? The questions were not secured, but J. J. Eddy and James Osborne admitted that they paid for the rooms and the stenographers. They did not say where they got the money. Before adjourning, the union adopted a rule that no more special meetings should be called except in the regular manner by the strike committee and then only on 48 hours notice.

Letters to the Editor

ONE DISTINCT GAIN Auburn, Wash., Feb. 4. Union Record, Seattle: The editorial on Monday, February 4, shows that we are going to get a distinct gain out of the strike setting for a good musical comedy with himself as the chief figure by a lot of bombastic nonsense which did not affect the attitude of the men in any way. Some of the men went back to work on Sunday morning and the balance on Tuesday night but not from any fear of Mayor Hanson. According to the papers, Mayor Hanson in addition to taking upon himself the direction of city affairs, was also able to direct the military movements. He would that have put the finishing touch to this comedy. For I surely believe he would not have wanted much persuading to hang on to the sword and get into boots and spurs. There is one thing that is very pleasant to think about and that is the fact that the workers saw the comedy of the whole thing from Mayor Hanson's standpoint and allowed him to run a city and act as the chief buffoon. We got that in every credit due to the workers and to the men from the ranks of labor who volunteered to keep order, that in the face of all that happened they treated the mayor and his attitude as it deserves, merely as a piece of good comedy. I have not been in the city long and therefore perhaps I am not conversant with the affairs and methods of conducting them. The recent affair has caused me to wonder what is the position of Mr. Matthews and a William Spangler. For I perceive that they were called by Mayor Hanson at a meeting of the workers. Are they advisers to Mayor Hanson or city directors? I thought the mayor was paid by the taxpayers to run a city and that councilmen were elected and paid to carry out the city affairs. Of course, I am a stranger and perhaps all these things are done differently where I come from. Mr. Matthews took it upon himself to give the workers a lesson. Perhaps, however, it was merely that Mayor Hanson had selected Mr. Matthews as chairman to lead the forces, and Mr. Spangler as second in command. At the event of it being necessary to put himself at the head of the troops. Yours truly, R. J. GILLES WERE THERE Editor Union Record: We are very glad to hear you speak so well of the commissary. Wilson & Luchters, 41. 1908 5th Avenue, Seattle, Feb. 12, 1919. Every man who works in a union should only be accepted as such. I have a whole lot of a whole lot of faith. Yours truly, C. T. HICKMAN, 1908 5th Avenue, Seattle, Feb. 12, 1919. PRICES ROSE IN CIVIL WAR

But They Fell Sooner When It Was All Over. WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—A striking similarity in the movement of prices during the Civil War, as compared with the present war, was brought out in the January number of the Monthly Labor Review published by the bureau of labor statistics, United States department of labor. The chief differences in the price movements as between the two wars are that the rise began earlier in the Civil War, that it was more pronounced than in the present war, and that the fall began earlier. The basic chart shows wholesale price fluctuations for 92 commodities by quarters from January 1861, to October 1918, and for the same articles of the nearest equivalent by quarters from January 1914, to July 1918. The two series were reduced to relatives on a basis of 100 for prices in 1861 and 1914, average indexes are used, that is the median for a date in the middle point in a scale of prices ranged in order from lowest to highest. Decline Sooner In the Civil War the highest point reached was 215 in January, 1865, which is 25 points higher than the median for the corresponding month in the present war, January, 1918. The median for 1865 had dropped 25 points below the 100 mark, and again 25 points below the 100 mark, as is known, no general decline in prices preceded the German surrender last fall. The price fluctuations in certain specific commodities, however, present great diversity. In some articles the rise in the Civil War was greater than the rise during the present war. Thus, the price of wheat with anthracite coal, lead pipe, and other commodities, rose in the Civil War to a point higher than the scale used with other commodities would be over a yard high. Wheat, wool and other commodities were not so high in the present war as in the Civil War. The course of prices of iron, wire, cattle, corn, etc., was not notably different.

CO-OP. SOCIETY MAKES PROFIT

Editor Record: Of all the nerve I ever saw I think you've got it to claim the strike a success. It was the worst thing that ever happened for the unions and there are very few union men that don't know it. We sneaked back to work today like a lot of whipped curs doing cheaper than 30 cents and that day I really believe he would not have wanted much persuading to hang on to the sword and get into boots and spurs. There is one thing that is very pleasant to think about and that is the fact that the workers saw the comedy of the whole thing from Mayor Hanson's standpoint and allowed him to run a city and act as the chief buffoon. We got that in every credit due to the workers and to the men from the ranks of labor who volunteered to keep order, that in the face of all that happened they treated the mayor and his attitude as it deserves, merely as a piece of good comedy. Editor Record: Of all the nerve I ever saw I think you've got it to claim the strike a success. It was the worst thing that ever happened for the unions and there are very few union men that don't know it. We sneaked back to work today like a lot of whipped curs doing cheaper than 30 cents and that day I really believe he would not have wanted much persuading to hang on to the sword and get into boots and spurs. There is one thing that is very pleasant to think about and that is the fact that the workers saw the comedy of the whole thing from Mayor Hanson's standpoint and allowed him to run a city and act as the chief buffoon. We got that in every credit due to the workers and to the men from the ranks of labor who volunteered to keep order, that in the face of all that happened they treated the mayor and his attitude as it deserves, merely as a piece of good comedy. I have not been in the city long and therefore perhaps I am not conversant with the affairs and methods of conducting them. The recent affair has caused me to wonder what is the position of Mr. Matthews and a William Spangler. For I perceive that they were called by Mayor Hanson at a meeting of the workers. Are they advisers to Mayor Hanson or city directors? I thought the mayor was paid by the taxpayers to run a city and that councilmen were elected and paid to carry out the city affairs. Of course, I am a stranger and perhaps all these things are done differently where I come from. Mr. Matthews took it upon himself to give the workers a lesson. Perhaps, however, it was merely that Mayor Hanson had selected Mr. Matthews as chairman to lead the forces, and Mr. Spangler as second in command. At the event of it being necessary to put himself at the head of the troops. Yours truly, R. J. GILLES WERE THERE Editor Union Record: We are very glad to hear you speak so well of the commissary. Wilson & Luchters, 41. 1908 5th Avenue, Seattle, Feb. 12, 1919. Editor Union Record: I have been thinking about the letter of Brother Leo Leuchter, who writes about Mr. Matthews and who says that he is perfectly peaceful strike, and is perfectly running free to form. Every man who works in a union should only be accepted as such. I have a whole lot of a whole lot of faith. Yours truly, C. T. HICKMAN, 1908 5th Avenue, Seattle, Feb. 12, 1919.
