Special Officers Ad- to Stand by Demands

The determination of the shipyard workers to stand firm—solid and unwavering—was strikingly demonstrated at a mass meeting of fully 15,000 members of the Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders and Helpers' Union in the armory Wednesday morning. The huge building was packed by the dense crowd of men, most of whom were standing.

With the exception of Gen. Moser, who had charge of the building, only members of the union were admitted. The general at the close of the meeting said that he had never in his life seen a more orderly crowd. Good humor and firm determination to continue the fight were the two outstanding characteristics of the meeting.

President James P. Martin explained the purpose of the meeting in a brief address, in which every reference to the continuance of the strike was received with demonstrations of tremendous enthusiasm. He answered several questions at the close of his speech and then invited to the platform any member, who was in favor of a return to work.

ATTITUDE WEAKENS UNDER CRUCIAL TEST

By JOE SMITH, Staff Correspondent Union Record
OLYMPIA, Feb. 18.—Smartering under publication as expressed in letters and telegrams from home, the senate yesterday deferred and defeated two pork barrel arm bills which it had passed the day before. Bills in question were those appropriating $100,000 each for armories at Colfax and Methuen. The sudden turn of events was a significant victory for the "insurgents" in the senate, and possibly portends the partial dissolution of the Taylor-Carlson corporation.

For several days the legislature has felt it to be the subject of vigorous and widespread criticism from home. The blind following by well-meaning but spineless members of the bosses who take their orders from without is beginning to be understood by citizens in all parts of the state despite the manifold efforts on the part of certain of the newspapers to protect the legislature from criticism.

Comment Strangely Tame
The army discussion yesterday several of these communications were read and the speakers in turn and humble as compared with the insolent communications earlier in the session. Senator McCoy read a telegram from an influential citizen characterizing the legislature as a "joke." McCoy read a letter from a leading business man of the city of Spokane, who said:

Leaders and loyal followers of the organization supported both measures in both bills, but in the second bill they were inserted five of their less steadfast followers.

May Kill Bill
This measure of economy evidenced by the defeat of two pork barrel bills supported by the organization is looked upon as a serious menace to the possible enactment of other of the purely "pork barrel" appropriation bills.

Not all of this new development, however, is being conducted in the open. A large part of the fight is aimed at the defeat of the bill by the legislature.

Assault on Lumping Bill
The bill comes in the form of an alternative measure introduced by the committee on appropriations.

Tacoma strike leaders all say they are glad to see the bill. A square deal in all they are asking.

METAL MEN SEEK HISTORY OF J. OSBORNE

Noisy Brother Tries to Disrupt Tacoma Boiler-makers
RECORD OF UNION SERVICE SHADY
Double-Crossing on Conference Committee Suspected

TACOMA, Feb. 18.—Investigation into the past record of James Osborne, leader of the revolt with the Tacoma branch of the Metal Trades Union, the largest union affiliate of the International Brotherhood of Metal Workers, is being made as a result of Osborne's disruption within the union.

Osborne came from Butte about a year ago, according to reports, and his full record there is expected within a day or two. As yet the officials of the Metal Trades union have no proof that Osborne is an agent of the metal trades and working in their interests.

Osborne came into the Central labor council as a delegate of the boiler-makers union December 5, 1918. Said C. B. Barrett, business representative of the Metal Trades union and member of the strike committee.

Osborne was the only man who ever made a remark in the council which was not in accordance with the strike and peaceable manner. He said that sometimes he would like to throw the metal men into the machinery occasionally.

On the Sunday after it was decided to call a strike, Osborne was present on the interlocking conference committee.

In the meantime he had overdrawn an account for $45. He was originally voted $5 a day as expense money, but no salary was to be paid him, Osborne never gave an account of the money he spent.

It is said that Osborne was the instigator of the arrest of Tom Russell, one of the leaders of the machinery of the strike, last Wednesday night.

As for the Tacoma daily papers, Russell was arrested by the immigration authorities at a hearing which was set for 11 a. m.

Tacoma strike leaders all say they are glad to see the bill. A square deal in all they are asking.

SAYS WORKERS THINK PAPERS TELL UNTRUTHS

Harris Points Out That Men Are Back of Shipyard Strike

"Why are these newspapers so anxious to have us give our work?" This is one of the questions asked last night by the officers by the long line of workers who crowded the windows of the shipyard.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 17, 1919. To the Editors of the Times, Post-Intelligencer and the Star.

If you will give this communication space in your paper you will not alone publish the truth, but you will also publish a fact or two that will do much to clear up some of the statements your paper has published regarding the shipyard workers as to the manner in which the strike in the shipyards is being handled.

I am the secretary-treasurer of the second largest labor union in the present shipyard strike, and because of this, and because I have been in contact with the men who are the employment manager and am anxious to have us go back to work or because they wish to up-hold the strike, I am in a position to give you the information in our business office.

Some of the questions I am expected to answer are such as "Why are these newspapers so anxious to have us go back to work?" "Are they doing it because they think it is for our own good or because they wish to uphold the strike?" "Why is it that the newspapers generally are opposed to our continuing the strike?"

"What's new this morning?" "Why is it that the newspapers don't want us to go back to work?" "Don't you think Wilson will make a clean record for himself?" "I see by the paper that you are going to throw the metal men into the machinery occasionally."

These questions and hundreds of others are propounded every day and night, and he has an answer to every question indicating lack of faith in the so-called strike leaders or in the conference committee.

Most of the men understand that the general strike committee, made up of the rank and file, and not of officers, has complete authority to call the men to stop work or to continue the strike.

No Movement
As for the movement in the ranks of the Shipyard Laborers, Riggers and Painters, I can only say that I have not seen any observation that so far as I am able to learn there is absolutely no movement on the part of the members of this union to take a vote on going back to work.

As to the satisfaction in the ranks of the Shipyard Laborers, Riggers and Painters, I can only say that I have not seen any observation that so far as I am able to learn there is absolutely no movement on the part of the members of this union to take a vote on going back to work.

It is equally true that our wages are no less, and that we are no less satisfied with our situation than we were before the strike.

THE STRIKE

WE STRIKE for what purpose? To force for ourselves, our wives, our children, all our loved ones, a higher standard of living, not a mere existence from day to day—a living from hand to mouth. Our families look to us for the comforts of life—they are dependent on us. Our wives perform their duties in life—they do their full and equal share; still they can only look to us, the wage earner, for their reward. Are we able to give them all the little comforts, even the few luxuries—so dear to them? The responsibility of our children, their upbringing, their education, their future, rests on us. On you and I, on our ability to furnish the necessary dollar. If we are giving to our daily work everything that is in us—our best, if we are producing from raw material the finished products which make up the financial wealth of this great country, we are morally entitled to our fair equitable share of that financial wealth. It is OUR creation. Why should we not participate fairly in it? If we should get our just dues, if we receive a just wage for our work, we could then give our families every comfort of life and besides lay by enough to protect us in old age, and leave a nest egg for our children. Today we are not receiving what we are entitled to—a just wage. We cannot get it. So we strike—our last weapon, our last trench, our last stronghold, and a strike brings trouble, discomforts, hardships and even want upon our loved ones.

Why Should We Strike?

When all our aims, our desires, our dues, can be gained easily, quickly and permanently by other means. By the only plan possible to establish a permanent, everlasting, satisfactory distribution of the wealth which we have created through our labor. You ask "HOW CAN THIS BE DONE?" Listen:

We all know that money has with absolute safety a much greater earning power than if it were simply hoarded up and not secure those greater earnings on our own money. Mr. John S. Williams, Controller of Currency at Washington, D. C. in his recent report stated that there was about forty-two billions of dollars in the banks and trust companies of the country, the majority of which is in small accounts belonging to the working man. That shows and proves that you and I are being allowed to place our money in the banks for safety at a mere rental return of 3 or 4%, while the capitalist in turn uses our money to further his own ends. He invests our money for his own profit in institutions that invest their money in dividends of 20 to 110%, absolutely safe in their investments still—well there is a great deal of difference between 3 and 4% and 20 to 110%.

A Guarantee of Safety
The Listman Service Co. investigates each opportunity thoroughly from every standpoint—safety, feasibility and earning power before ever bringing these opportunities to you, giving you a guarantee of safety. Think what such a service means to you. A chance to place your savings not only now but year after year in safe institutions as a stockholder receiving the full earning power of your money and not just 3% as a depositor. This service, if followed every year, will not only give you and your family those comforts and luxuries you have so long wanted, but it will insure you against poverty in old age.

This Is What You Want

If you own your own brain, your own hands, your own strength and your own will, and you are entitled to—no through strike but through the power of the dollar which will be yours. This service costs you nothing but the honest desire to better your condition, a personal investment and backbone to say "I will grasp this opportunity now, today, because it is my only salvation." You owe it to your family, your pocket—was offered to you, would you be willing to help it along? If so call at:

cash Div. Rate
Fidelity Title & Tr. Co., Pittsburgh... 25%
Union Tr. Co., Pittsburgh... 110%
Girard Tr. Co., Philadelphia... 116%
President B. & Tr. Co., Philadelphia 35%
Brooklyn Tr. Co., New York... 25%
Guaranty Tr. Co., New York... 32 1/2%
Federal Reserve Bank, New York City
Net Earnings in 1918... 107%

These facts being true—if money has such a great earning power with safety—if it is placed in such institutions for such great gain, why should you and I, the capitalists in money in the same way? We place our savings in the banks at the rate of 3% and the capitalist in his facilities, takes our money entrusted to his care and invests it in these big money making institutions, keeping the great bulk of the profits for himself. "Profits made on my money!"

HUB of the Pacific Northwest, gateway to Alaska, Siberia and the Orient, Seattle's import and export business amounted to four hundred and eighty-five millions in 1916. It amounted to six hundred and eighty-five millions in 1917. Her bank clearings amount to over a billion dollars a year; her bank deposits to over a hundred and fifty millions. In 1890 Seattle had a population of eight thousand; in 1918, three hundred and twenty-eight thousand. In 1917 the Puget Sound and Alaska salmon pack sold was valued at sixty-seven million dollars. In 1917 Seattle had 1,200 industries, whose product sold for two hundred million dollars. Besides Puget Sound, Seattle has the largest fresh water harbor in the world. The Seattle shipyard payrolls have been averaging more than two million five hundred thousand dollars each month for the last eight months. Seattle has seven transcontinental lines, sixty-five steamship lines, thirty-five miles of city boulevards, twenty-eight parks, and hundreds of miles of automobile roads. Its geographical relations with the rest of the world, its unparalleled opportunities for commerce, the marvelous beauty of its surroundings as a home city, help to prove Seattle's future as a metropolis. The possibilities of manufactures in the vicinity of Seattle are practically boundless. For the manufacture of commodities from Oriental raw materials, the possibilities are limitless. Few who are familiar with the industrial possibilities of Seattle doubt that there will be located here in a few years the largest tire factories in the world, for through no other port in the United States are such large quantities of rubber imported. Through no other port in the world are such large quantities of bean and cocoa oil imported.

ELECTION RESULTS

Yesterday's primary results should hearten the labor forces to go forward to victory at the general election March 4. With almost no work done in their interests, the general strike and the shipyard strike, the labor candidates polled almost a majority...

Now is the time for all the forces of labor to get together and act as one. Whether we believe in political action or not... whether our political choice of candidate or not has been selected as a nominee...

This is a vital and critical time in the history of the labor movement. The forces of reaction are moving heaven and earth to put us in our "proper place" and it is for us to show them and all the world that our proper place is in control of society, both politically and industrially.

GUID SOCIALISM—WHAT IS IT?

It dropped into our office with the clearest little explanation of the Guild Socialism which is making such headway in England... "Guild Socialism means," he said, "that the industries belong to the government, but are operated and managed by the workers..."

"Under guild socialism, the workers manage the industry, elect officers from among themselves, and if there are any profits these are divided between the government and the workers."

The plan presented to Congress by our own House of Representatives is the first suggestion of Guild Socialism in this country. They urge the government to retain ownership, but to turn over to the workers the task of management...

THAT LEAGUE OF NATIONS

We are not surprised that Senator Borah objects to the League of Nations—as its composition is at present drawn up. It is all but a mere collection of the same kind. Where is the seat of power in the League? Not in the congress of all the nations, but in the Big Five—England, the United States, France, Italy and Japan...

A combination of the victors to boss the world to police the world is the order! Somehow we seem to miss the fine flavor of the federation of democracies that Wilson talked about. Is it merely that Wilson was outwitted? Or is it that Wilson sees the light truly when he is talking of abstract ideas, but that he hates fighting?...

There are a whole lot of people so afraid the truth won't get the traditional "crushed to earth" that they work overtime doing the tramping-under-foot stuff. We haven't had a real reform measure for a generation but the voters of which do not will be trampled by the same sort of people who are now yelling Socialist, Bolsheviki, anarchist at the unions. They don't try to meet the truth; they simply try to make it look like dirty linen.

Until about a year ago we had never heard of bolshevism and consequently knew about as much about it as most people do now. That is our surprise, then, to learn that in this short time it has infected a majority of the people of the United States! There is no doubt about the majority infection, because the left press has applied the term to every one with a shade of opinion different from the official Wall street faith.

We appreciate the delicate compliment paid us by our morning contemporary for publishing from time to time opinions which are not our own. It increases our confidence that to be recognized. There is no copyright in our ideas; so we trust that the compliment will be continued and our newspaper will be quoted by a competitor in the highest terms. Thank you!

Gossip About Congress

A POLITICAL LIABILITY

I dropped into O'Flaherty's office, down in the American Federation Building in Washington. O'Flaherty is the man who looks after the national interests of the postal employees, and the letter carriers in Seattle had asked me to see what could be done about getting Department Recognition. O'Flaherty was pessimistic.

"Nothing can be done," he said, "as long as Burleson is in office." "Do other government departments deal directly with unions of their employees?" I asked. "Yes," he said. "The Navy and War Departments deal direct with their machinists and metal trades workers. Secretary Daniels and Secretary Baker are always telephoning over to O'Connell and Berres of the Metal Trades Department to come over and adjust matters."

"Unions are alone in his anti-union policy. He tells the employees to come singly, and when they do, he fires them!" Government and Unions. "Unions are alone in his anti-union policy. He tells the employees to come singly, and when they do, he fires them!"

"Government and Unions." "Unions are alone in his anti-union policy. He tells the employees to come singly, and when they do, he fires them!"

"When a boss like Burleson takes charge, words go through the service that organization. That partisan appeal which gave me ground about their rights."

"How long is he likely to hold out against all the opposition to him?" I asked. "I don't know," said O'Flaherty. "He is thoroughly unpopular everywhere. The Democrats consider him a political liability. They claim that he lost the last election for no other reason."

TRADING WITH THE ENEMY

The latest incident in the conspiracy of silence is the police order closing the halls in New York City to Socialists, Internationalists and radicals. The Non-Partisan League has met with the same treatment in Minnesota, South Dakota and Iowa. The members of the League have broken up all over the country; in many states the Socialists were not even permitted the use of halls during the recent campaign.

When the United States was at war with Germany, the members of the League for German help in order to defeat the German power? Unthinkable! Congress even passed a law forbidding any citizen to trade with the enemy.

The struggle between the masters and the workers is entering upon its final stage. It is a fight to the end, now, between the exploiters and the exploited. The time has come for the American workers to stop trading with the enemy. If they want a newspaper, they must own it and support it; if they want a school, they must organize it and control it; if they want a meeting place, they must build it. The workers of Europe learned this lesson a generation ago. It is our turn now.

WHY WE NEEDED FREE SPEECH

We have invested free billions in recent months to make the "world safe for democracy," not to mention the lives lost, and the wounds, disease and suffering from it all, that we have spent on education and good roads and other of our valuable things in all our history. Yet now, when all conceivable danger is passed, and we are more than anxious as to whether we are going to realize on this staggering investment, they common people are not free to discuss the pros and cons. They still depend on censored news. They are still shut off from important sources of information. The president has gone to Europe without hearing first from any but a straggler opinion. With things in a such a state we may soon be sending more good money after bad, as the phrase goes, and more lives for big words and hidden purposes.

The Nonpartisan League is not a "friend" of the farmers; it is the farmers. The difference between being treated like a head of stock and many independence.

A CRAZY POET

By Anise

He was a British poet Named Sassoon. When the war started And he was a lover of peace And a hater of militarism. And so he was killed Giving his life to "crush The Arch Militarist The Kaiser."

WIFE AND MILDRED HAS AN ADVENTURE

I WAS neglected, and worse. But what I did was to get another entrance to the dining-room. I asked my waiter after I had finished my coffee. "Yes, if you don't mind going through the writing-room," and he pointed the way.

I held the paper before me while I sat in my office. I was aware of the personality of anyone near me. I felt like a man in a room full of paper and me. I felt like a man in a room full of paper and me.

JIMMY COON AND HIS FRIENDS

The Adventures of the Little People of the Great Forest

I wish you could have seen the antics of those brave Ant Soldiers! Their officers led them in an awful charge, with all kinds of weapons, including the gas and the little Woodfolk saw thousands of Ant Soldiers attacking Giant Bear! Now I want you to meet Mr. Maynard, my wife, and the tall and thin man who was sitting over my hand murmuring words of pleasure at the prospect of my wife's eyes to his I imagined he flashed me a glance of understanding, and of warning.

GIANT BEAR ATTACKS THE ANTS

Wall, see of the most wonderful Battles ever won in the Great Forest. You remember that the immense Army of Ten Thousand Ants had a great fortress in the woods. No one in the woods dared attack it. The Ants were the little Woodfolk. The great Ant Army had splendid armor and weapons. The Ant Army was wonderfully trained. They were the best of the forest.

All the little Woodfolk were on hand to help the Ants. They were the best of the forest. They were the best of the forest. They were the best of the forest.

TRouble FOUND IN FIXING WAR BLAME

No Precedent Under Which Kaiser Can Be Punished

By FRED A. FERGUSON
The length to which the sessions will continue after the German are in is problematical, although the delegates may have been expected to refer certain questions to their government.

What to Do With Germany
In the meantime discussion of boundaries, in which the allied powers are concerned, will continue, but it is not necessary that an agreement will have been reached before the preliminary peace is presented.

ENGINEERS
The old strategic boundary line has again bobbed up through the negotiations of Serbia's claims.

FRENCH PREMIER IS SLIGHTLY WOUNDED

PARIS, Feb. 19.—Georges Clemenceau, premier of France, was shot and slightly wounded by a boy named Cottin, as he entered a motor car in front of his residence this morning.

The bullet inflicted a flesh wound on the inner side of the right arm near the shoulder. It's nothing," was "The Tiger's" only comment after he walked back into the house unassisted.

The attack occurred at 8:30 a. m. As Clemenceau left his residence in the Rue Franklin and stepped into his waiting motor car, his assailant fired four or five shots at him from a revolver.

News of the attack on Clemenceau spread rapidly through the city. There were excited comments on the boulevards, in cafes and public buildings.

Reports circulated were that the assailant was a Russian. Clemenceau, as permanent chairman of the peace congress, is the biggest figure in Europe at present.

LABOR CANDIDATES POLL GREAT VOTE

Although little more than one-half the total registered vote was polled in Tuesday's city primary election, some 13,000 supporters of the three city council candidates organized labor managed to get to the polls and vote, which was enough to place them in nomination alongside the three candidates endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce and the other capitalist organizations.
