

STATE SECRET SERVICE LIFE JUST CLOSED

Strike-Breaking Body Not Disbanded at Time of Exposure... FARE IS PAID TO DISTANT PLACES... State Robbed of $53,070.50 to Pay for Services of Body

By JOE SMITH... OLYMPIA, Jan. 17.—In case the state legislature decides to investigate the conduct of the state secret service exposed last summer by Mayor Hanson of Seattle it will find that the secret force was disbanded by Governor Lester on the eve of the legislative session, and that its operations have been dispersed to various parts of the state.

Members of the Union Record will receive during the early days of the strike of the telegraph operators in Seattle the same secret service operatives were placed at the disposal of the telegraph company, and were used in an effort to discredit the strike and drive employees back to their jobs by telling them that the strike was engineered by "Bolshevik" spies and enemy sympathizers.

Protests were reported to Governor Lester of this system of mulcting strikers and their families. The state's employees as aids to strikebreakers, and although no money was made by the governor it was assumed by his defenders that the money made to the abuses. It now develops that the money was not made by the state, but that the employment of the secret service was continued until December 31.

Runs True To Form

Yesterday Seattle was treated to a bit of opera bouffe by the police administration. The police reserves were called in and held under "riot orders".

They are the men who built all of the ships that have been built in the port of Seattle during the past years to help beat Prussianism and establish democracy throughout the world.

They are the men who "put over" every one of the Liberty Loan drives after the business interests had failed to respond to the call of their country for funds.

They are the men who made possible heralding throughout the length and breadth of the land that Seattle had gone over the top 100 per cent for the Red Cross and the Seven-in-One drive.

SHIPYARD WORKERS TO STRIKE TUESDAY

By a unanimous roll call vote at a special meeting on Thursday evening, the Seattle Metal Trades Council voted to call out all the workers in the shipyard industry next Tuesday morning unless employers meet the demands presented by the conference committee for a general raise in wages in all branches of the industry.

By an overwhelming vote, which was counted on December 10 last, the membership of the council last night the shipyard workers to strike on Tuesday next.

Delegates from the craft receiving the highest wages, some of them getting even more than they will receive under the new scale, had been arranged to meet the strike on account of the laborers' demand for a 10 per cent increase.

RUSSIAN PROBLEM TRES DIPLOMATS

Politicians of Old World Sorely Puzzled Over Soviet Situation and Best Way of Solving It

PARIS, Jan. 17.—The greatest political battle of modern times was being fought out here today—in secret. This struggle centered on the Russian situation. Its outcome was believed to hinge largely on the result of the newspaper correspondents' fight for publicity of the peace proceedings.

Some inkling came when the French Socialist newspaper L'Humanite recently revealed the fact that the peace delegates were divided as to whether a fair inquiry should be made into Russian affairs, with a view of ascertaining whether the conference should be held in London or whether the conference should be held in London.

It was explained today that the matter of sending an allied commission to investigate Russian conditions is being held in abeyance until the council in London has decided upon a proposal for at least partial recognition of the Soviet government.

TWO MEN TO BE DEPORTED

Alex Kiehl, arrested on May 15, 1918, on the charge that he advised the unlawful destruction of property has been ordered deported by the immigration service at Washington, according to Henry M. White, commissioner of immigration, upon the findings reported by this office. Kiehl could be released to some employer until such time as he could be deported. The employer would have to report to the immigration service as to whether Kiehl returned to the United States, and when he left the employ. The Kiehl returned to 40. Kiehl is an Austrian.

Joe Martin & Russian arrested in January, 1918, and John Lee, a Finn, arrested in February, 1918, have been offered a release on parole, which they refused to accept, since this would mean that they would have to report back to the immigration service as to where they were, and would only be released after a year in case they took no part in anything of a radical nature.

Upon refusal, their case was referred back to Washington, D. C., to determine what should be done with them.

FLIP OF COIN SETTLES SUIT FOR DAMAGE

The flip of a 50-cent coin in Judge Everett Smith's department of the superior court Friday morning settled a civil action involving $2,418.20. Judge Jury was absent from the room for some time the parties and lawyers "got together" and determined to "trust their fortunes to the chance of hazard rather than a jury of King county citizens."

It was the case of the Shields-Johnson Motor Company against the Hainesworth Motor Company. The plaintiffs, located at Takoma, are distributors of the Buick for the state. The amount was alleged to be due, $2,225.20 unpaid balance on commissions earned, $155 as a false charge for extra cost in delivery of freight cars. The plaintiffs alleged they were informed by the Hainesworth Motor Company that because of the strike they were unable to run cars to certain points on their own power. It was necessary to run cars to certain points on their own power. Shields-Johnson alleged they paid the charges, according to the statement at its face value, only to learn later that as a matter of fact the Hainesworth Motor Company did not have to pay any part of the charges. Shields-Johnson had been charged, the money so paid.

The case had been assigned to Judge Smith's department and principals and attorneys had gone to the court for trial. The appearance of the judge and the trial was postponed through court began to talk settlement. Offers were made and refused until one of the parties said "Make it up or so and so." "Won't do it," said the other. "Well you what, though, I'll flip a coin with you to see whether I do or not." "You're on," said the other. The coin was produced. It spun through the air and struck the floor. "You win," said one. "Correct," said the other.

Superintendent of Light Department Is Ill at Home

CITY POLITICIANS AFTER HIS SCALP

Friction Over Municipal Ownership Breaks in Council

On the ground that J. D. Ross, superintendent of city light department, "has not attended to his duties for several weeks," Mayor Ole Hanson appeared before the board of public works Friday morning and asked that body to take the light department out of Ross' hands and appoint L. B. Young as superintendent.

It is a matter of common knowledge in municipal circles that the recent meeting between Ross and the mayor has been due to the fact that the former is a member of certain matters. For instance, it is generally known in the city that certain councilmen wanted to see Ross on the subject of a 30 per cent. This loss refused to see them, and the councilmen are entirely unnecessary.

It is also understood that Hanson's action in instructing the light department to lay off a much larger number of men than Ross considered necessary.

GRAYS HARBOR METAL TRADES GO ON STRIKE

Stop Work Wednesday When Scale Negotiations Fail

ABERDEEN, Jan. 17.—(Special.)—Following the refusal of the shipyards on Grays Harbor to consider the demands of the unions affiliated with the Metal Trades Council, that the original demands regarding wages be granted, all unions of the metal trades struck at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The Metal Trades Council presented the companies with a bi-part agreement covering the demands of all the unions. The demands were the same as made last summer and amounted to a dollar an hour for most of the skilled trades and 50 per cent for laborers. The refusal of the companies to consider the matter resulted in the walkout of the men.

The funeral of Earl Irvine, for the past 12 years an employee of the Seattle postoffice, who died at his home, 530 Twenty-fifth avenue south, last Wednesday, will be held at Calvary cemetery at 4:30 next Saturday afternoon. Owing to the fact that Mr. Irvine died of influenza, the service will be conducted in the open air, members of Seattle Branch No. 79, National Association of Letter Carriers of the United States, being invited to participate. Mr. Irvine was born in Colorado Springs, Colo., 26 years ago and came to this state from Chicago in 1906. About this time he moved to Seattle and became an employee of the local postoffice. Irvine served 26 terms as president of Branch No. 79 and represented the local unit at the national conventions held at San Francisco and Dallas.

At all times a hard worker for the upbuilding of the letter carrier organization, Irvine was popular with the members of the branch. Postoffice officials speak of him as one of the most efficient men in the local service. He leaves a widow and five children.

BOTH CUDIHIE'S GIVEN DIVORCE

Judge Clay Allen Impartial in Awarding Decrees

Former Sheriff Edward Cudihie was granted a divorce against Mrs. Ella Cudihie by Judge Clay S. Allen in the superior court Thursday. Mrs. Ella Cudihie was granted a divorce from former Sheriff Edward Cudihie by Judge Clay S. Allen in the superior court Thursday. From his action it will be seen that the judge strives to please his patrons, perhaps in the hope of building up a permanent and exclusive trade among the exclusive divorce columnists. In making this impartial award the court said he was not quite sure he was within the statutes, in which case he would have rescinded Mrs. Cudihie's decree and leave the former absent in force. First Mrs. Cudihie sued, alleging cruelty; then Cudihie cross-sued, alleging cruelty. And Judge Allen thought incompatibility of temperaments would be about the right decree, and so noted in the decree. But Walter Fulton, attorney for the ex-sheeriff, protested the change made by the court. Mrs. Cudihie gets $100 monthly alimony the first year, $10 the second, when all alimony terminates, $400 attorney's fee, the Cudihie home and other property worth all told $20,000.

Legislative Sidelights

There are possibilities even yet that the legislators may not go entirely to the head. Worby infers that the bill is now in the hands of the Senate.

Seattle people are familiar with a big, heavy truck fitted up as a small traveling house, with forceful legs painted on the outside. They are the sort of texts which international students of the "Legislative Sidelights" chapter "Repeat and be saved."

It is really remarkable that a legislator has any brains at all left to use at the beginning of the year. Coming down on the train one member was "telling of the way he had been treated. He had been asked to use his influence."

Whiskers don't come to the legislature any more. The picture of a former legislator out in the lobby. They wear all kinds of whisks in the house. There are some whisks for this. In the first place, whisks are not as fashionable as they used to be. In fact, there are wood logs, not to say forests, of whisks in these pictures. Note that these are hardly a man with whiskers in the house. There are some whisks for this. In the first place, whisks are not as fashionable as they used to be. One of the newspaper correspondents has found use for the secret caucus. The first use ever made for it by anyone except old guard party leaders, so far as is known. He says they are useful as an alibi.

If the sessions are behind closed doors, he says, and anyone tells you that you have made a mistake, all you have to do to tell him that nobody knows what really happens, because everything was kept in the dark. But if you are sitting right at his elbow, when he said it, and now he tries to explain why you got him wrong."

It isn't only the delegates to the peace conference who are planning to remake the map. The legislature has passed a memorial asking congress to change the name of the Panama canal to the "Panama-Hayden canal." The House has not solidly in favor of this change, the vote being 38 in favor of honoring Teddy by naming the canal for him, and eight opposed.

California is worried over grape growers. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Over 150,000 men, women and children will lose their means of support in the grape industry alone when the nation goes dry, according to figures compiled today by the California Grape Protective Association.

WANTS ARCH FOR WELCOME
 Frank Gates, secretary of the King County Council of Defense, is enthusiastic over an idea that he has evolved and which he will submit to the returned soldiers and sailors' welcome committee at the meeting of that committee Saturday night, January 18, in room 403 of the City-County building. He proposes the building of a triumphal arch across Second avenue for the purpose of giving meet-and-greet welcome to the khaki-clad boys on their return from overseas and to the demobilization points. It would comprise a hand stand and reviewing stand and a platform lighted up with a big electric sign announcing "Welcome Our Boys Home."

Training in Trades Planned for Youth
 By C. R. FRAZIER
 In the United States there are over 2,000,000 boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 18 years. Out of 87,000,000. These are recognized as the "critical period" in a human life. Just at the time when their physical and mental faculties are in the greatest flux, and just at the time when in the case of many of them they are beginning to bear the burdens and face the real problems of the large army of 1,250,000 boys and girls who are entering the world of practical life. Many of them have had no real chance to prepare for the jobs they are to do.

EDITORIAL SECTION

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

This day January 17, is Benjamin Franklin's birthday. He opened his eyes in Boston in 1706; he closed them in Philadelphia in 1790. He was one of America's greatest sons whose fame is likely to grow with the years. How he would enjoy the developments of electricity! He would be a "hale fellow" in company with Edison.

POWER SPELLS RESPECTABILITY

All down the ages it has been universally accepted as a truism that acts are respected, but not words. Power, or lack of it, moral or lack of morality in exact ratio with the power of those who are responsible for the acts under consideration.

NO SENSE OF HONOR

In DOUBTFUL STATE
By Ann

I just answered.

Russian Soviet Republic

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS AND THE RIGHT TO VOTE

The Nation N. Y. City, January 11, has done a distinct service in printing in the Russian Soviet Republic, in its latest form adopted July 10, 1918.

He discovered the identity of lightning with electricity in 1752. He proposed a "Plan of Union" at Albany in 1754—thus being one of the original League of Nations advocates. He was a member of the Continental Congress in 1775; member of the committee which drew up the Declaration of Independence in 1776; Ambassador to France in 1776; helped to negotiate the Treaty of Peace with England in 1783; member of the Constitutional Convention in 1787.

ANOTHER CAUSE

The latest cause for Bolshevism (which now is the concentration of all that is diabolical, to inflamed imaginations) is "starvation" nor is it "thin" but a great association against the National Prohibition has smelled it out—the cause for Bolshevism is "Prohibition."

REGULATION BY COMMIS-SION A FAILURE.

Public ownership advocates have always held that the attempt to solve the public utility problem by regulation is especially through state or federal commissions futile and the whole scheme a snare and a delusion. It is being repeatedly demonstrated and municipal officials are coming to realize it. For example, the public utility officials expressed their confidence in city officials in 1908 in the Illinois city was recently held in 1914. After a discussion of the unbearable conditions resulting from commission rule and regulation, resolutions were adopted providing for the appointment of a legislative committee to present a demand to the General Assembly for the repeal of the public utility act.

SAVES MONEY

The municipal electric light plant of Pasadena has saved the people of that city $1,470,000 over the rates paid before the municipal plant was established. It earned a profit of 7.64 per cent on its investment during the year it has been in operation. It has an increase of nearly 1,000 over last year. And it did not raise its rates.

OLD TIMES

Do you remember when the war was new, when we took a sort of pleasure in balancing the misdeeds of the Germans and the allies? We'd almost forgotten those days, until this week the New York Evening Sun in an old magazine reminded us that America hadn't always been violently pro-ally.

THE FARMERS' NONPARTISAN LEAGUE

This is the same league that was branded as diabolical by the "kept" press of the state only last summer, following the refusal of the big business lackeys of Walla Walla to permit a meeting of the State Grange in the public buildings of that city.

POWER SPELLS RESPECTABILITY

It should be remembered that the acts so highly commended in this editorial are the acts of the very group that has come in for so much abuse and misrepresentation in the hands of the Bolshevists and other newspapers printed in the interest of those who live out of the sweat of other men's faces, the Farmers' Nonpartisan League.

NO BEAVERS ARE CAUGHT

The Country Boy set his steel trap in a splendid place at Mirror Pond. And he grunted as he stuck up a stick over his trap with some nice bait, so the beavers, in trying to eat the bait, would get caught in his steel trap.

ANOTHER CAUSE

More and more, as the farmers take CONTROL of a great state and begin to function in the interests of the people the acts of the Bolshevists and other newspapers printed in the interest of those who live out of the sweat of other men's faces, the Farmers' Nonpartisan League.

ADVERTISING FOR JANE PHELPS AND BROOKE EXTRACTS A PROMISE

For the first time a doubt as to the wisdom of going out alone with Leonard Brooke last morning. Kate remembered what Clifford had said in the morning, and shrugged his shoulders at her.

"You see Nell knows all the people in the town, and I don't know one," he had said to me, "and I'd have to have them all." It's luck you were that thick yet.
