

Leadership for Building Equity First Monday
Seminar for LEND Fellows University of Washington January 7, 2019

12:30 Welcome

Introductions Review of Agenda/Learning
Objectives Group Agreements

12:50 Overview - Terminology

1:05 Focus - Implicit Bias

1:45 Focus - Microaggressions

2:10 Overview - Strategies to Address Implicit Bias

Focus: Ways to address implicit bias at organizational level

2:35: Focus: Personal Plan of Action

2:50: Shared Responsibility

Evaluations

Shukri Olow, MPA - Prenatal to Five Family Engagement Coordinator, Department of Human Services, King County

As a member of the King County's Best Starts for Kids Initiative, Shukri supports the County's initiative by ensuring that families have access to the early intervention system. She participates in a dynamic, collaborative, multilingual, culturally diverse work team engaged with family-centered, strengths-based best practices, qualitative and quantitative data-informed innovation, cross-systems partnerships, trauma recovery and healing orientation, and prioritizing an equity and social justice lens. In her spare time, Shukri is an avid reader, a life-long learner and a mother to two amazing children. Contact Information: solow@kingcounty.gov

Suzanne Quigley, Ph.D., CCC-A - Consultant

Suzanne works as a consultant and facilitator to non-profit, university and governmental agencies in the areas of equity, research and grant writing. Suzanne was the Executive Director of a Seattle nonprofit, Listen and Talk, from 2007-2017 and prior to that was Chief of Audiology and Cochlear Implants at Virginia Mason Medical Center. Suzanne has co-authored and presented nationally and regionally on topics related to Equity, Cochlear Implants, and Telehealth. Contact Information: suzanneq1961@gmail.com

Materials included in this workshop are based on the King County Prenatal-to-Five Equity Initiative and were created by the REACH Center for Multicultural Educational Services, Wendy Harris, Sue Tripp, Barb Yasui and Benita Horn. Materials may not be reproduced without permission.