

Academy of Clinical Laboratory Physicians & Scientists

44th Annual Meeting June 4-6, 2009

Crown Plaza Hotel
300 North Harbor Drive
Redondo Beach, California

The University of California at Los Angeles will host the 44th Annual Meeting of the Academy of Clinical Laboratory Physicians and Scientists (ACLPS). On Friday morning, ACLPS Young Investigators will give oral presentations on research projects and new developments in Laboratory Medicine that cover a wide range of topics in Hematology, Chemistry, Immunology, Transfusion Medicine, Microbiology, and Molecular Diagnostics. The Friday afternoon session will begin with presentations by previous Young Investigators and will include a series of highly distinguished speakers who will discuss emerging technologies relevant to Laboratory Medicine. The Saturday morning session will feature a Symposium on Individualized Medicine in a point, counter-point format.

The deadline for Young Investigator Award Program Abstracts is February 20, 2009.

Please join us for what promises to be a very interesting and exciting program!
