

UW Marine Biology Resources for Transfer Students

University of Washington

We encourage prospective transfer students who want to pursue marine biology at UW to learn about our programs and opportunities and to get involved through:

UW's Marine Biology Programs

Read more about majors and programs for UW marine biology students:

<http://depts.washington.edu/marbio/dive/overview.html>

Look at marine biology major pages that will help you prepare to transfer:

- Marine Biology Programs Transfer Info

<http://depts.washington.edu/marbio/links/prospective.html#transfer>

- Oceanography

<http://www.ocean.washington.edu/academics/prospective-students.html>

- School of Aquatic and Fishery Sciences

<http://www.fish.washington.edu/undergraduates/prospective/transfer.html>

- Biology

<http://www.biology.washington.edu/Academics/Undergraduate/FAQ>

- Friday Harbor Labs

http://depts.washington.edu/fhl/stu\_index.html

Internship/Volunteering Resources

<http://depts.washington.edu/marbio/sail/opportunities.html>

UW Marine Biology Facebook Group

<http://www.facebook.com/home.php#!/groups/21863387329/?ap=1>

Scholarship Information

<http://depts.washington.edu/marbio/links/prospective.html#scholarships>

Visiting UW for a Summer Tour or an Advising Appointment

We host marine biology tours each summer, and prospective transfer students can visit for advising appointments year-round. For tour info visit: <http://depts.washington.edu/marbio/links/prospective.html#tours>. For an advising appointment contact marbiol@uw.edu

UW Marine Biology Resources for Transfer Students

University of Washington

We encourage prospective transfer students who want to pursue marine biology at UW to learn about our programs and opportunities and to get involved through:

UW's Marine Biology Programs

Read more about majors and programs for UW marine biology students:

<http://depts.washington.edu/marbio/dive/overview.html>

Look at marine biology major pages that will help you prepare to transfer:

- Marine Biology Programs Transfer Info

<http://depts.washington.edu/marbio/links/prospective.html#transfer>

- Oceanography

<http://www.ocean.washington.edu/academics/prospective-students.html>

- School of Aquatic and Fishery Sciences

<http://www.fish.washington.edu/undergraduates/prospective/transfer.html>

- Biology

<http://www.biology.washington.edu/Academics/Undergraduate/FAQ>

- Friday Harbor Labs

http://depts.washington.edu/fhl/stu\_index.html

Internship/Volunteering Resources

<http://depts.washington.edu/marbio/sail/opportunities.html>

UW Marine Biology Facebook Group

<http://www.facebook.com/home.php#!/groups/21863387329/?ap=1>

Scholarship Information

<http://depts.washington.edu/marbio/links/prospective.html#scholarships>

Visiting UW for a Summer Tour or an Advising Appointment

We host marine biology tours each summer, and prospective transfer students can visit for advising appointments year-round. For tour info visit: <http://depts.washington.edu/marbio/links/prospective.html#tours>. For an advising appointment contact marbiol@uw.edu