

Doctoral Marshal #18

- I. Line up (12:00 p.m.): Go through the faculty security check-in at the Dempsey Indoor Practice Facility northeast of the stadium. Pick up your gold baton at the commencement table as you enter. (After the ceremony, commencement personnel will meet you at the back of the student seating section, as you are recessing, to take your baton.) Refer to the wall chart near the entrance for your line-up position and go to that position. Assign students a line in which to march. Each line should contain the same number of candidates. Candidates must stay in their assigned lines. Candidates wishing to sit together should be grouped in the same line (not next to each other in different lines).
- II. Procession: Follow the marshals directly in front of you. When you enter the stadium try to remain even with the doctoral group entering on the opposite side of the stadium. Follow the line of march shown on the diagram (page 2, dotted green line). When you reach position #18 you will begin seating candidates (first doctoral #2, then master's #2 and bachelor, 21 per row, in the even-labeled rows. You will work together with a seating marshal. If you run out of seats, direct students laterally to available seats in their degree section. You will move slowly toward the back of the stadium, seating candidates. After all candidates are seated and the President's and Deans' Parties have cleared the center aisle, walk forward to your seat at #18 (see diagram, page 2).
- III. Doctoral march to the stage: When the President asks doctoral candidates to come forward, go to "d." As candidates leave their seats, direct them across the quarter aisle toward the marshals at "c." (See diagram on page 3 for details.) Doctoral marshal #19 will assist you. When candidates begin exiting the stage move to "y" and ensure the stanchions from the ramp are properly positioned (see diagram, p. 3) and direct candidates back to the marshals who are seating them at "n." (See diagram, page 3) Marshal 19 will remain at d. After the doctoral march, you may be seated.
- IV. Master's march to the stage: When these candidates begin their march, go to "y." (See diagram on page 3 for details.) Ensure the stanchions are properly repositioned for the master's march (i.e., connected to the aisle stanchions - see diagram, p. 3) and direct candidates to stay in their lines. After the master's march, you may be seated.
- V. Bachelor march to the stage: Return to "y." (See diagram, page 4.) The stanchion position for master's and bachelor marches is the same. Encourage candidates to remain in their proper lines. When candidates have left the stage, return to your seat.
- VI. Recessional: Encourage students to remain in their seats until the President's and Deans' Parties have cleared the center aisle. You may join the faculty recessional as they pass you. Upon reaching the back of the stadium you may disperse with the rest of the faculty or exit via the tunnel to the faculty dressing room.

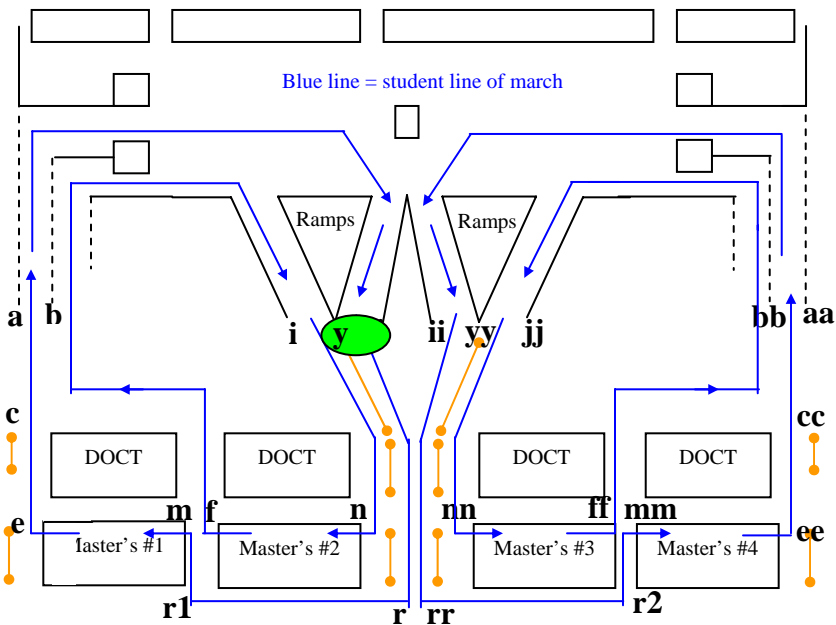

Processional and Recessional Diagram

DOCTORAL MARCH DIAGRAM

MASTER'S MARCH DIAGRAM

BACHELOR MARCH

