

Faculty Marshals - Northeast

- I. Line up (12:00 p.m.): Go through the faculty security check-in at the Dempsey Indoor Practice Facility. Refer to the wall chart near the entrance for your line-up position and go to that position. You will be leading the files of faculty as shown on the processional chart on page 2. The faculty should form two lines and march two abreast. The marching order of the various marshals, award winners, divisional deans, chairs, directors and faculty is available on the “Marching Order of Academic Procession” chart. It is your responsibility to line up faculty according to this chart. (There is a link to this chart on the previous web page.) Winners of special awards will identify themselves to you.

- II. Procession (see diagram, p. 2): Marshals at the entrance to the stadium will tell you when to begin marching into the stadium. Follow the lines of march shown on the processional diagram. The Grand Marshals, marching just ahead of you, will about-face and remain at positions 6 and 7. Continue to the stage along the route shown on your diagram. Once you arrive on stage, the stage marshals will direct you to the third row of seats. You will step aside and let the award winners and divisional deans fill the row. Then take your seats, leaving the two seats nearest the aisle for the stage marshals. The remaining members of the academic procession, at the direction of the stage marshals, will be seated in the fourth row. Other marshals will be seated in your row later.

- III. Recessional (see diagram, p. 3): During the recessional, the stage marshals at A, B, and C will hold back the third row of stage seating until the President’s and Deans’ Parties have left the stage. The stage marshals will then direct you to lead the third row center (“Commencement Marshals and Award Winners”) off the stage via the north stage aisle and the north center aisle (see diagram). The south faculty marshals will join you and together you will march down the two center ramps and proceed to the west end of the stadium. From there you may disperse with the rest of the faculty or exit via the tunnel to the faculty dressing room.
