

Seating Marshal #27

- I. Check-in (12:00 p.m.): Go through the faculty security check-in at the Dempsey Indoor Practice Facility northeast of the stadium. From there you may proceed to the stadium floor. All seating marshals should be in position in the stadium by 1:20 p.m. The procession begins promptly at 1:30 p.m.
- II. Procession (see diagram, page 2): Begin at position #27. You will be seating candidates (first doctoral, then master's and bachelor), 21 per row, in the odd-labeled rows, beginning in doctoral section #2 and moving back. (Exception: Seat only 19 candidates in the first row of the Doctoral and first row of the Master's sections, leaving the end seats open.) You will work with another seating marshal and a doctoral marshal.

The doctoral marshal “feeds” the students into a row. You should be positioned about 10 ft. from the current row being “fed.” Hold the students back and, once a row has been filled, count out 21 students for the next row. Doctoral candidates will arrive first, followed by master’s candidates. If you run out of seats, direct students laterally to available seats in their degree section. When the bachelor candidates arrive, permit the College Marshals leading them to pass by and proceed to the stage. Be sure that the final row of bachelor candidates has equal numbers on the north and south sides.

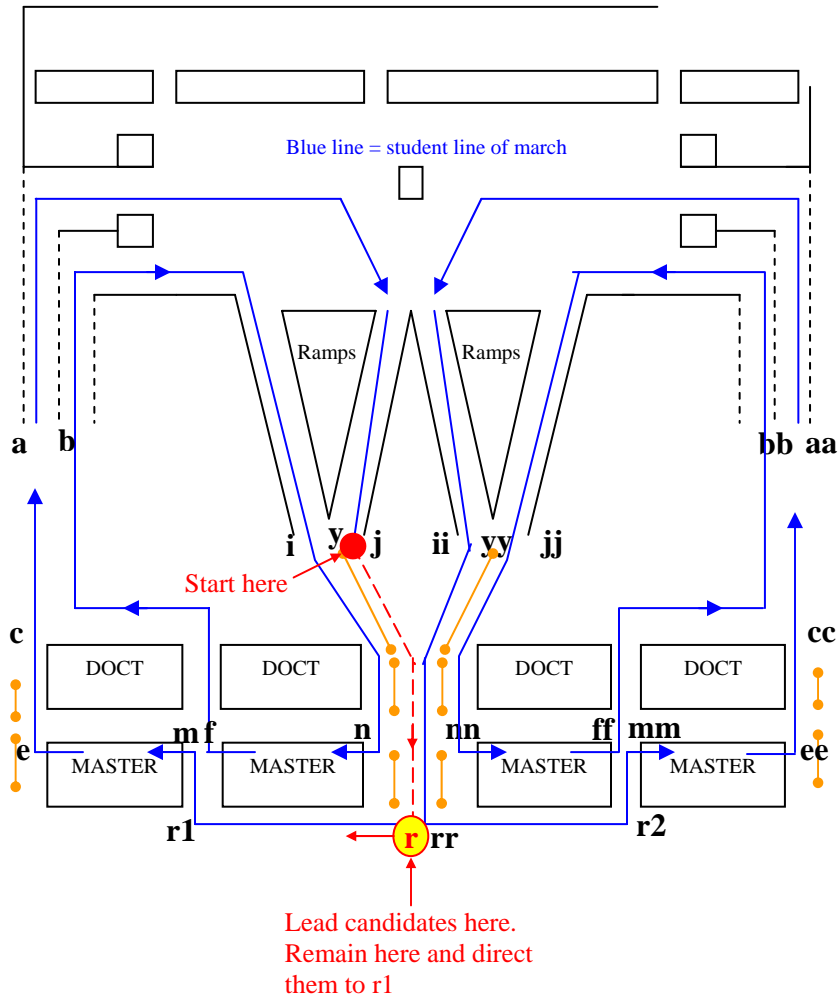

After the candidates have been seated, the Deans’ Party, then the President’s Party, will process to the stage. As the President’s Party proceeds down the center aisle, walk back up the (quarter) aisle you have been working, toward the stage. As the President’s Party reaches the stage, you should be ready to proceed up the north ramp behind them to your seat (see diagram).

- III. Doctoral march to the stage: You have no duties during the doctoral march to the stage.
- IV. Master’s march (see diagram, page 3): When the President says, “On behalf of the board of regents and the graduate faculty, I am pleased to confer upon each of you your master’s degree...”, move quickly, via one of the north ramps, to the bottom of middle ramp (see your diagram). Lead the first master’s candidates from the bottom of the ramp to position “r.” Remain at “r” and direct candidates to “r1.”
- V. Bachelor march (see diagram, page 4): As you did during the master’s march, you will greet the first bachelor candidates as they come off the middle ramp of the stage and lead them to “v.” From “v” direct students to “w”. When University Marshal Moore closes the proceedings, move to position “HH.”
- VI. Recessional (see diagram, p. 2): At position “HH,” ask students to remain in their seats until the stage party has cleared the center aisle. Students may leave the seating area when the classical music stops and the pop music begins. From there you may disperse with the rest of the faculty or exit via the tunnel to the faculty dressing room.
