

ANTH 469 B

Special Studies in Anthropology: Southeast Asian Modernities
Jenna Grant

Tuesday & Thursday, 3:30-5:20pm
Savery Hall (SAV) 155
5 credits

This advanced undergraduate and graduate course explores current themes in the anthropology of Southeast Asia. Our readings center around case studies from Cambodia, Laos, and Thailand, and we attune to Inter-Asian and transnational connections, whether through development, war, diaspora, national imaginaries, or images.
