

School of Social Work faculty, staff and students:

Can we talk?

You're invited to an exceptional event—with breakfast—to bring our social work community together and begin a frank conversation about race and equity. Help shape a future agenda for social justice at the School and in our lives as part of the UW Race & Equity Initiative.

Our Guest Speaker — Dr. Larry Davis, Dean, University of Pittsburgh School of Social Work, and noted author of Why Are They Angry With Us? Limited supply of books on loan now in the Office of the Dean, Room 210. Books on sale for signing on the day of the event.

Monday, May 9, 7:30 a.m. — 9:30 a.m.

School of Social Work Bldg. Room 305

Register today! Space is limited. RSVP no later than Wed., May 4, by contacting Mary Kaiser at mbk2@uw.edu or 206.685.1661.

socialwork.uw.edu