

Turn your Passion into Action - Attend a Homelessness Advocacy 101 workshop

(Don't be shy! Advocacy just means speaking up!)

Do you care about homelessness and want to do more, but need to know how to help? Learn to speak up for smart policies & robust funding that will lead to a healthy & housed WA: more affordable housing, a stronger safety net, fair revenue, & supportive services.

Sign up for one of our FUN & FREE 2 hour workshops at www.homelessinfo.org.

- Wednesday, January 24, 5:30 p.m. Seattle Pacific University
- Sunday, January 28, 1:30 p.m. Renton Highlands Library
- Saturday, February 3, 10:00 a.m. Seattle U-District at University Congregational UCC
- Tuesday, February 6, 6:30 p.m. Kent Lutheran Church
- Wednesday, February 21, 5:30 p.m. Federal Way Day Center

Homelessness Advocacy 101 is a FUN training with Nancy Amidei. Together with local experts & allies, we'll remind you of what you might have learned in 8th grade:

- * Who makes decisions in Olympia?
- * How does a bill become a law?
- * What can regular people do to have a say?

We'll share the basics of key legislative proposals to create housing, support people who are homeless, and make a better future for all. You'll leave informed & inspired, with simple actions and sample messages to use with your classmates, fellow congregants, neighbors, and friends. Learn to speak up effectively and make a real difference!

Please Pre-Register online:
