

Interested in . . .

Health Care in Underserved Communities?

This is a course organized by a multi-disciplinary effort of UW health sciences students.

This course is designed to give graduate/professional students in the health sciences an introduction to the health-related issues faced by underserved populations. The course will focus on understanding the demographics of underserved communities, the structural barriers to health care, and resources available in the Seattle area. Credit/no-credit

Course Faculty: Jocelyn James, MD

- Promote knowledge and understanding of the diversity of medically underserved communities
- Increase awareness of issues and challenges facing medically underserved communities
- Further students' understanding of what it means to care for underserved communities
- Provide service learning opportunities focused on underserved communities
- Foster students' desires to work with underserved communities in the future

UCONJ 550: Health Care in Underserved Communities

Winter Quarter (Jan 7-Mar 22, 2019) - 1 Credit
Tuesday 6:30-8:20 PM, K069

Enrollment fills quickly, so sign up soon!

For questions or to obtain ADD CODE, Email: UCONJ550@gmail.com

UCONJ 550
Health Care in Underserved
Communities
UCONJ550@gmail.com

UCONJ 550
Health Care in Underserved
Communities
UCONJ550@gmail.com

UCONJ 550
Health Care in Underserved
Communities
UCONJ550@gmail.com

UCONJ 550
Health Care in Underserved
Communities
UCONJ550@gmail.com

UCONJ 550
Health Care in Underserved
Communities
UCONJ550@gmail.com

UCONJ 550
Health Care in Underserved
Communities
UCONJ550@gmail.com

UCONJ 550
Health Care in Underserved
Communities
UCONJ550@gmail.com

UCONJ 550
Health Care in Underserved
Communities
UCONJ550@gmail.com