

Bodemer Interprofessional Ethics Lab for Health Sciences Students

Ethical Complexities of Caring for Patients who Are Incarcerated

Photo: Tyler Rutherford

October 16, 2019, 5:30 – 7:30 pm South Campus Center 316

During this active learning session, students will have the opportunity to engage with interprofessional teams to work through a challenging case related to the topic including issues of consent, privacy & confidentiality, maintaining dignity of incarcerated patients, and safety, as well as providing information to aid clinicians in navigating care for incarcerated patients.

With Visiting Professor Kahlia Kéita, MA, JD

The John J. Lynch MD Center
for Ethics
MedStar WA Hospital Center
Journal of Hospital Ethics

For more information and to register visit:
<https://collaborate.uw.edu/in-the-classroom/>

