SRCD 2020-2021 U.S. Policy Fellowship Programs

Deadline: January 3, 2020

The Society for Research in Child Development (SRCD) is seeking applicants for the U.S. Policy Fellowship Programs for the 2020-2021 academic year. There are two fellowship programs: federal and state. The fellowships provide researchers with immersive opportunities to (1) learn firsthand about policy development, implementation, and evaluation, and (2) use their expertise to inform child and family public policies and programs that support diverse populations. Through these experiences, fellows also learn how to communicate with policymakers and formulate more informed questions for policy-relevant research. All fellowships will run from September 1, 2020 to August 31, 2021.

William T. Grant Foundation Inequality Research Grants

Deadline: January 9, 2020

The William T. Grant Foundation works to further the understanding of human behavior through research. The Foundation supports high-quality research relevant to policies and practices that affect the lives of young people ages 5 to 25 in the United States. To support research projects designed to advance understanding in the area of inequalities in youth development and/or to increase understanding of how research is acquired, understood, and used, as well as the circumstances that shape its use in decision making. Priority will be given to projects related to inequality on the basis of economic, racial/ethnic, and language background, but research that explores other areas of inequality will also be considered (based on a compelling case for its impact).

2020-2021 Atlantic Fellows for Equity in Brain Health

Deadline: January 31, 2020

This 12-month program provides training in brain health, leadership and dementia prevention to early and mid-career healthcare professionals, with an emphasis on local and global health inequities that need to be addressed by practitioners and policymakers. Fellows will be based at the University of California, San Francisco or Trinity College Dublin.

NIH Summer Internship Program in Biomedical Research

Deadline: March 1, 2020

Summer programs at the National Institutes of Health (NIH) provide an opportunity to spend a summer working at the NIH side-by-side with some of the leading scientists in the world, in an environment devoted exclusively to biomedical research (At the NIH "biomedical research" includes everything from behavioral and social sciences, through biology and chemistry, to physics, mathematical modeling, computational biology, and biostatistics). The NIH consists of the 240-bed Mark O. Hatfield Clinical Research Center and more than 1150 laboratories/research groups located on the main campus in Bethesda, MD, and the surrounding area as well as in Baltimore and Frederick, MD; Research Triangle Park, NC; Hamilton, MT; Framingham, MA; Phoenix, AZ; and Detroit, MI. NOTE: the number of positions in Hamilton, Framingham, Phoenix, and Detroit is limited. Internships cover a minimum of eight weeks, with students generally arriving at the NIH in May or June. The NIH Institutes/Centers and the Office of Intramural Training & Education (OITE) sponsor a wide range of summer activities including an orientation to help interns get off to a good start, lectures featuring distinguished NIH investigators, career/professional development workshops, and Summer Poster Day.

Alzheimer's-focused administrative supplements for NIH grants that are not focused on Alzheimer's disease

Deadline: March 6, 2020

The participating Institutes and Centers (ICs) are inviting applications to expand existing awards that are not currently focused on Alzheimer's disease and its related dementias (AD/ADRD)—frontotemporal dementia, Lewy body dementia, vascular cognitive impairment with dementia, and multiple etiology dementias—to allow the research to develop such a focus. Active awards with project end dates in FY 2021 or later are eligible. The award may not be in terminal no cost extension or going into no cost extension in FY 2020. Please note that a few ICs limit no cost extensions in the final non-competing year of an award. For that reason, it is important to contact staff at the Institute supporting the award when planning the request.

DSSG 2020 Project Proposal Submission Information

Deadline: Project proposals should be submitted through the online submission form by midnight (Pacific Time) on February 24th.

Program Overview

The call for proposals is now open for the sixth offering of the University of Washington Data Science for Social Good summer program, to be held during the summer of 2020.

Information session: Friday, January 17, 2020 11:00 am - 12:00 pm: Data Science Studio Meeting Room, 6th floor Physics/Astronomy Tower, UW campus (Last year's slides can be found here:

Pre-Doctoral Fellowship in Social Work Neuroscience and Clinical Research on Behavioral Health Interventions

Deadline: Applications open until fellowship is awarded

Eric Garland, PhD, Associate Dean for Research at the University of Utah College of Social Work and Director of the Center on Mindfulness and Integrative Health Intervention Development, is seeking clinically-trained social work PhD students for a fellowship in social work neuroscience and clinical research on behavioral health interventions. Pre-doctoral fellows will assist in Federally-funded research; faculty at the University of Utah College of Social Work are currently conducting research projects funded by NIH -National Institute of Drug Abuse, NIH-National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health, NIH-National Institute on Aging, National Institute on Justice, the National Science Foundation, the Department of Defense, and Patient Center Research Outcomes Institute (PCORI). Pre-doctoral fellows will support clinical biobehavioral research on mindfulness as a treatment for chronic pain and prescription opioid misuse at the Center on Mindfulness and Integrative Health Intervention Development, which currently oversees more than $17 million in NIH, DOD, and PCORI funded grants. In particular, fellows will help conduct randomized clinical trials (RCTs) and mechanistic research of Mindfulness-Oriented Recovery Enhancement (MORE), a manualized social work intervention for addiction, stress-related conditions, and chronic pain. Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Evidence for Action: Investigator-Initiated Research to Build a Culture of Health

Deadline: Open

Evidence for Action (E4A), a national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), funds research that expands the evidence needed to build a Culture of Health. A Culture of Health is broadly defined as one in which good health and well-being flourish across geographic, demographic, and social sectors; public and private decision-making is guided by the goal of fostering equitable communities; and everyone has the opportunity to make choices that lead to healthy lifestyles. RWJF's Culture of Health Action Framework, which was developed to catalyze a national movement toward improved health, well-being, and equity, guides E4A's program strategy. Preference will be given to applicants that are either institutes of higher education, public entities, or nonprofit organizations that are tax exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and are not private foundations or Type III supporting organizations. Other types of nonprofit and for-profit organizations are also eligible to apply.

Scholarships available for excellent training institute in July!

Applications are now being accepted for the 2020 mHealth Training Institute (mHTI) to be held at the University of California, Los Angeles from July 26 – 31, 2020. The week-long, residential program blends “deep dives” into the latest mHealth technologies and methodologies with team-science projects to provide the selected scholars with the transdisciplinary knowledge, competencies and collaborative networks required to tackle “wicked” healthcare problems. The mHTI is funded by a NIH/OBSSR/ODP/NIDA training grant (R25DA038167) and administratively supported by the NIH Center for Excellence on Mobile Sensor Data-to-Knowledge (MD2K).

Upcoming Research Events of Possible Interest:

Stay tuned for this great on-campus opportunity

The ALACRITY Center will be conducting a grant writing “boot camp” in the near future. The plan will be to conduct this in alignment with February, June, and October grant submission deadlines. They will be sharing more details about content and timing in the near future and we will keep you posted.

2020 Edwards Psychology Lectures

Join us on Wednesday, May 6 and Wednesday, May 20 for our 15th Annual Allen L. Edwards Psychology Lectures. This year's lectures will explore the topics of neuroimaging and human sexuality.
