Winter 2018 Labor Studies Courses at the University of Washington

Full list now available at the Harry Bridges Center for Labor Studies website: http://depts.washington.edu/pcls/resources-courses.html

In Winter 2018, over twenty Labor Studies-related courses will be offered at the UW Seattle and Tacoma campuses. All of these courses count towards a Minor in Labor Studies. Look below for a preview, or visit the Bridges Center website for a full listing complete with course details: http://depts.washington.edu/pcls/resources-courses.html

See a course missing from our list? Let us know at hbcls@u.washington.edu

Winter 2018 UW Labor Studies Classes

At the UW Seattle Campus:

AES 322/GWSS 300 – Gender, Race, and Class in Social Stratification

CHSTU 254 – Northwest Latinos: History, Community, Culture

CHSTU 260 – Introduction to Chicano Politics

ANTH 373 – Labor, Identity and Knowledge in Health Care

ECON 443 – Labor Market Analysis

ENV H 462 – Technical Aspects of Occupational Safety

GWSS 333/JSIS B 333 – Gender and Globalization: Theory and Process

GWSS 476/GEOG 476 – Women and the City

GEOG 123/JSIS 123 – Introduction to Globalization

HSTCMP 249/POLS S 249/SOC 266 – Introduction to Labor Studies

HSTAA 105 – The Peoples of the United States

HSTLAC 482 – History of Brazil: Colonial Period to the Present

JSIS A 324/LSJ 322 - Human Rights in Latin America
JSIS B 324 – Immigration
LSJ 360/POL S 360 – Introduction to United States Constitutional Law
LSJ 422 – Immigrants, Labor, and Legality
SOC 360 – Introduction to Social Stratification
SOC W 526 – Social Movements and Organizing: People, Power and Praxis

At the UW Tacoma Campus:

TECON 450 – Labor Economics and Policy
T EGL 101 – Introduction to Ethnic, Gender, and Labor Studies
TPOL S 480 – Politics, Philosophy, and Economics Seminar
T SOC 434 – Women, Race, and Class: Identity and Intergroup Relations