

2019 Duck Family UW Graduate Retreat Camp Casey Conference Center, Whidbey Island

May 31 - June 1, 2019

*Center for Environmental Politics
University of Washington, Seattle*

Friday, May 31

3:30-5:00

Arrival, Camp Casey, Company Quarter J

6:00-7:00

Dinner, Mess Hall A

Saturday, June 1

8:00- 9:00

Breakfast, Mess Hall A

9:00-9:15

Panel 1: Environmental Politics in Africa

Chair: Tom Koontz, Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences, UW Tacoma

1. Kylie Clay, Political Science
Land Titling as a Signal of State Capacity: A Study in Its Spillover Effects on Illegal Forest Use in Rural Tanzania

Discussant: Kate Crosman, Public Policy & Governance

2. Will Gochberg, Political Science
On Dangerous Ground: Evidence on the Link between Land Insecurity and Violence

Discussant: Jeffrey Grove, Political Science

10:15-10:30

Break

10:30-12:00Panel 2: Community and Environmental Governance

Chair: Karen Litfin, Political Science

3. Christianna Parr, Political Science
Leaders and Laggards: Ratification and the Power of Civil Society

Discussant: Ellen Holtmaat, International Studies, Visiting Scholar

4. Kate Crosman, Public Policy & Governance
Assessing International Non-Governmental Organization Influences on Coastal Resource Management by Communities and Users

Discussant: Michael Diamond, Atmospheric Sciences

5. Eduardo Gallo Cajiao, Conservation Biology, Visiting Scholar:
What does a Centennial Mean for Migratory Species Conservation?

Discussant: Rebecca de Buen Kalman, Public Policy & Governance

12:00-1:00

Lunch, Mess Hall A

1:00-2:15Panel 3: Private Initiatives for Environmental Protection

Chair: Ann Bostrom, Public Policy & Governance

6. Matthew Ziegler, Computer Science
Technologies for Community Management of Natural Resources

Discussant: Kylie Clay, Political Science

7. Ellen Holtmaat, International Studies, Visiting Scholar
Variety of Private Sustainability Standards

Discussant: Eduardo Cajiao, Conservation Biology, Visiting Scholar

2:15-3:30

Panel 4: New Instruments for Environmental Policy

Chair: Victor Menaldo, Political Science

8. Steve Karceski, Sociology
Did TV Ads Defeat the Washington Carbon Tax?

Discussant: Will Gochberg, Political Science

9. Rebecca de Buen Kalman, Public Policy and Governance:
Can't Drive Today? An Analysis of the Impact of Driving Restrictions on Bike-Share Ridership in Mexico City

Discussant: Matthew Ziegler, Computer Science

3:30-3:45

Break

3:45 - 5:00

Panel 5: Environmental Governance: Past and Future

Chair: Laura Evans, Public Policy & Governance

10. Jeffrey Grove, Political Science
Producing the Wilderness: Native Nations and US National Park Policy

Discussant: Steve Karceski, Sociology

11. Michael Diamond, Atmospheric Science
International Shipping in the Southeast Atlantic: A 'Natural' Experiment in Marine Cloud Brightening

Discussant: Christianna Paar, Political Science

5:00-6:00

Dinner, Mess Hall A

Sunday, June 2

8:00- 9:00

Breakfast, Mess Hall A

9:30, Departure