

◦ SOC401A ◦

INCARCERATING AMERICA:

IMPACTS OF MASS INCARCERATION ON INDIVIDUAL AND COMMUNITY HEALTH

In this course, we will make use of a wide range of sources, including a tour of a prison, to learn about the implications of mass incarceration for population health and health disparities. We will examine the impact of incarceration on the health of prisoners and individuals post-release, as well as their families, partners, children, and communities.

For more info, contact instructor:
Marie Neumann
neumannm@uw.edu

Summer 2016
Full-Term
Tuesday/Thursday 1:30-3:50
5 credits