

How to Conduct an Empathetic and Effective Stakeholder Interview

BCBAs thrive on data, but how do you get information to create a data collection system? Talking to stakeholders and caregivers can be intimidating, and many BCBAs were not taught how to ask good questions in their coursework. This presentation gives BCBAs a foundational knowledge on how to conduct an information-gathering interview, what makes a good question and how to get the answer you really need to create the best program.

Course Objectives:

In this workshop, participants will :

- Identify different types of interviewing strategies
- Be able to explain what makes a good question
- Be able to identify key words which prompt follow up questions

Who should sign up: Board certified behavior analysts who are beginning their careers, those accumulating their practicum hours, or anyone who wants to get better information from stakeholders

Content level: Introductory to intermediate
