

Production Report
September 25, 2009

Rehearsals/Performances: The Tempest is in rehearsal in the Jones Playhouse. They are working afternoons and evenings until classes start on Wednesday when they will go to 6:30 to 10:30 on weeknights. Information about the specific rehearsal schedule and contact information can be found at: <http://sites.google.com/site/uwtempest/home>

References to Salvador Dali Make Me Hot will begin rehearsals on October 12 in the Penthouse.

Scenery: Tempest build continues, Tres was out ill earlier this week and Jordan is out today. Christopher Mumaw is doing props for Tempest. Alex has a good idea of the scope but is waiting to receive the Dali drawings from Jin. Aaron has met with Alex and has posted some model shots for The Last Days of Judas Iscariot.

Costumes: Tempest: Miranda is the only character left to fit. Everyone looks great. All going very well. A few items are missing, but Inci has some ideas. Fit the flying harness this week. Alex is ready to try it in the theater. I am in contact with the stunt school (David Boushey) about helping. Still waiting for information on the swing actor and replacement.

Dali - meeting with Anastasia on Monday to bid. Prelims look good.

Shop: all GSAs are doing great work. Deborah has been fighting a cold. She went home early. We are washing hands, wiping down counters.

Lighting: Jay will be starting Monday but splitting time with Drama and Meany for the first month.

Open House at the Playhouse next Friday October 2, 1 to 6pm. Invite your friends and colleagues.

BA Orientation Monday September 28 at 1:30pm
