WHEREAS, The University of Washington has begun to address climate change solutions by signing the American College & University Presidents Climate Commitment in March, 2007; and

WHEREAS, Focus the Nation is a national campaign designed to create a dialogue about climate change solutions at over a thousand colleges, universities, high schools, middle schools, civic organizations and businesses; and

WHEREAS, The University of Washington is hosting a Focus the Nation event on January 31, 2008; and

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

THAT, GPSS recognizes the importance of taking a progressive stance on climate change; and

THAT, GPSS supports efforts of Focus the Nation to educate the University of Washington campus as well as the larger Seattle community about climate change; and

THAT, GPSS endorses the following statement and course of action formulated by the national Focus the Nation organizing committee:
Global warming poses a serious threat to people and natural systems across the planet. Public and private policy decisions about global warming this decade will have impacts lasting for generations. To focus the nation’s attention on this crucial issue, [the University of Washington, Seattle,] in conjunction with colleges, universities, and high schools across the country, will organize a symposium about ‘Global Warming Solutions for America’ on or around January 31 2008. On that day, faculty are strongly encouraged to travel with their classes to attend scheduled programs about climate change or to discuss it with their own students. The symposium program committee will work with interested faculty to develop appropriate material for their classes and to insure that diverse disciplines are represented in symposium panels and workshops; and THAT, GPSS further encourages the participation of students, faculty, and staff in the University of Washington’s Focus the Nation event.
