Harborview Abuse & Trauma Center (HATC)

Mission

Our mission is to prevent and treat the harmful effects of traumatic experiences on survivors, families, and communities. We provide effective support and care that is also individualized, culturally inclusive, and compassionate. We serve the larger community through leadership, prevention, education, and advocacy.

Vision

We envision a community where violence and harm are greatly reduced, and survivors of traumatic experiences are always supported in their recovery.

Foster Care Assessment Program (FCAP)

Minu Ranna-Stewart, Social Work Supervisor

The Foster Care Assessment Program is contracted with the Washington State Department of Children, Youth, and Families (DCYF). When significant barriers to permanency prevent children from returning home or finding an alternate permanent plan, since 1998, DCYF has relied on the expertise of FCAP evaluators to provide comprehensive assessment and consultation on the most complex cases impacting reunification of children and youth in care.

Demographics

African American and Native American/Indigenous children continue to be disproportionately represented in Washington's child welfare system. FCAP is committed to identifying and eliminating biases that negatively impact permanency for all children, especially those who are disproportionately represented.

Feedback from Community Partners & Families Receiving FCAP Services

“The report you provided for the family was excellent ~ thorough, accurate, well-written and definitive. I wanted to also tell you how validating your assessment/report was to the parents and both attorneys”.

- Social Worker, Office of Public Defense

“Thank you so much for the consultation! I really appreciated speaking with you. Your assistance is greatly appreciated”.

– Tribal Social Services Specialist

“Everything is great, all I can say is thank you so much. The child is home now, and they are doing wonderful”.

– Relative Caregiver

Prevention & Education

Britnee Harvey, Prevention & Education Manager

In an effort to change systems, social norms, attitudes, and behaviors that perpetuate sexual assault and gender-based violence, HATC offers education and prevention services to schools, community partners, and social service professionals throughout Washington state.

Prevention & Education

All in Project

HATC leads the charge in addressing sexual assaults among individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD).

Prevention & Education

K-12 Sexual Health Education Project:

HATC used federal funding to pilot a sexual health education program for high school students. The project served to help school districts comply with Washington State law RCW 28A.300.475, which requires school districts to develop comprehensive sexual health education in grades nine through twelve. HATC used federal funding to develop and pilot a sexual health education curriculum called Healthy Connections for high school students.

Feedback from Education Forums

“Thank you so much for this presentation, it was wonderful! No specific feedback, just accolades and appreciation for all your work in our community”!

“Such a valuable webinar. I really appreciate the overall conversation and perspective as well as the action steps to provide safe spaces and, safe interactions for youth”.

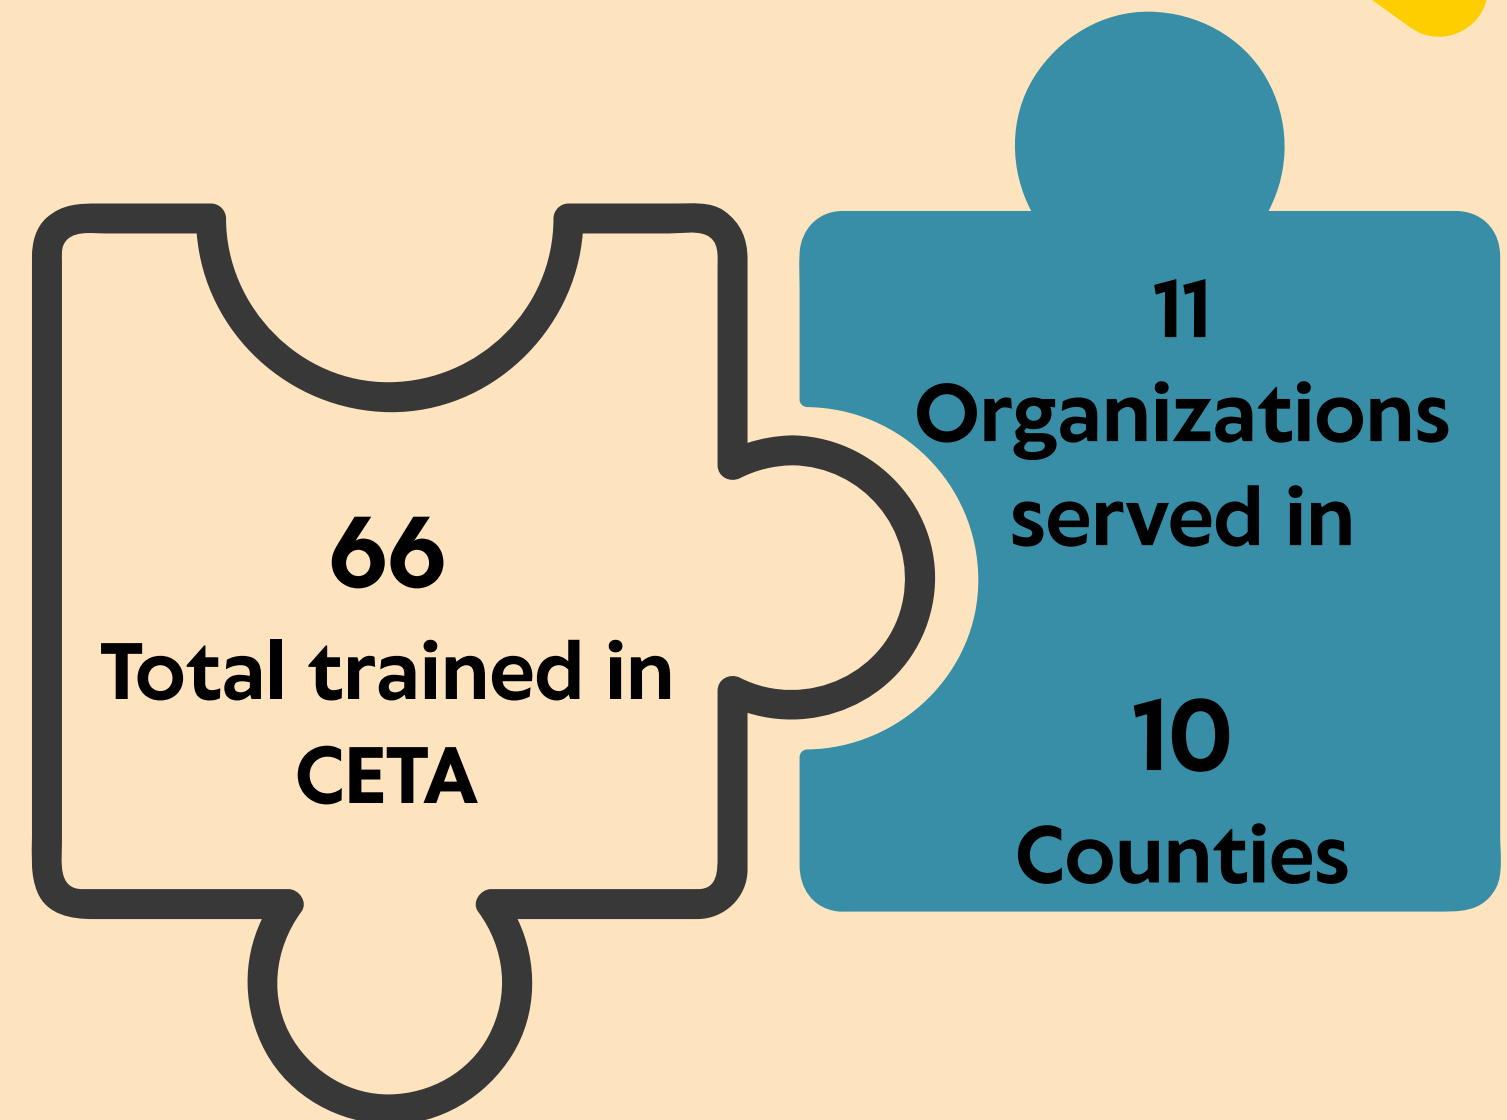

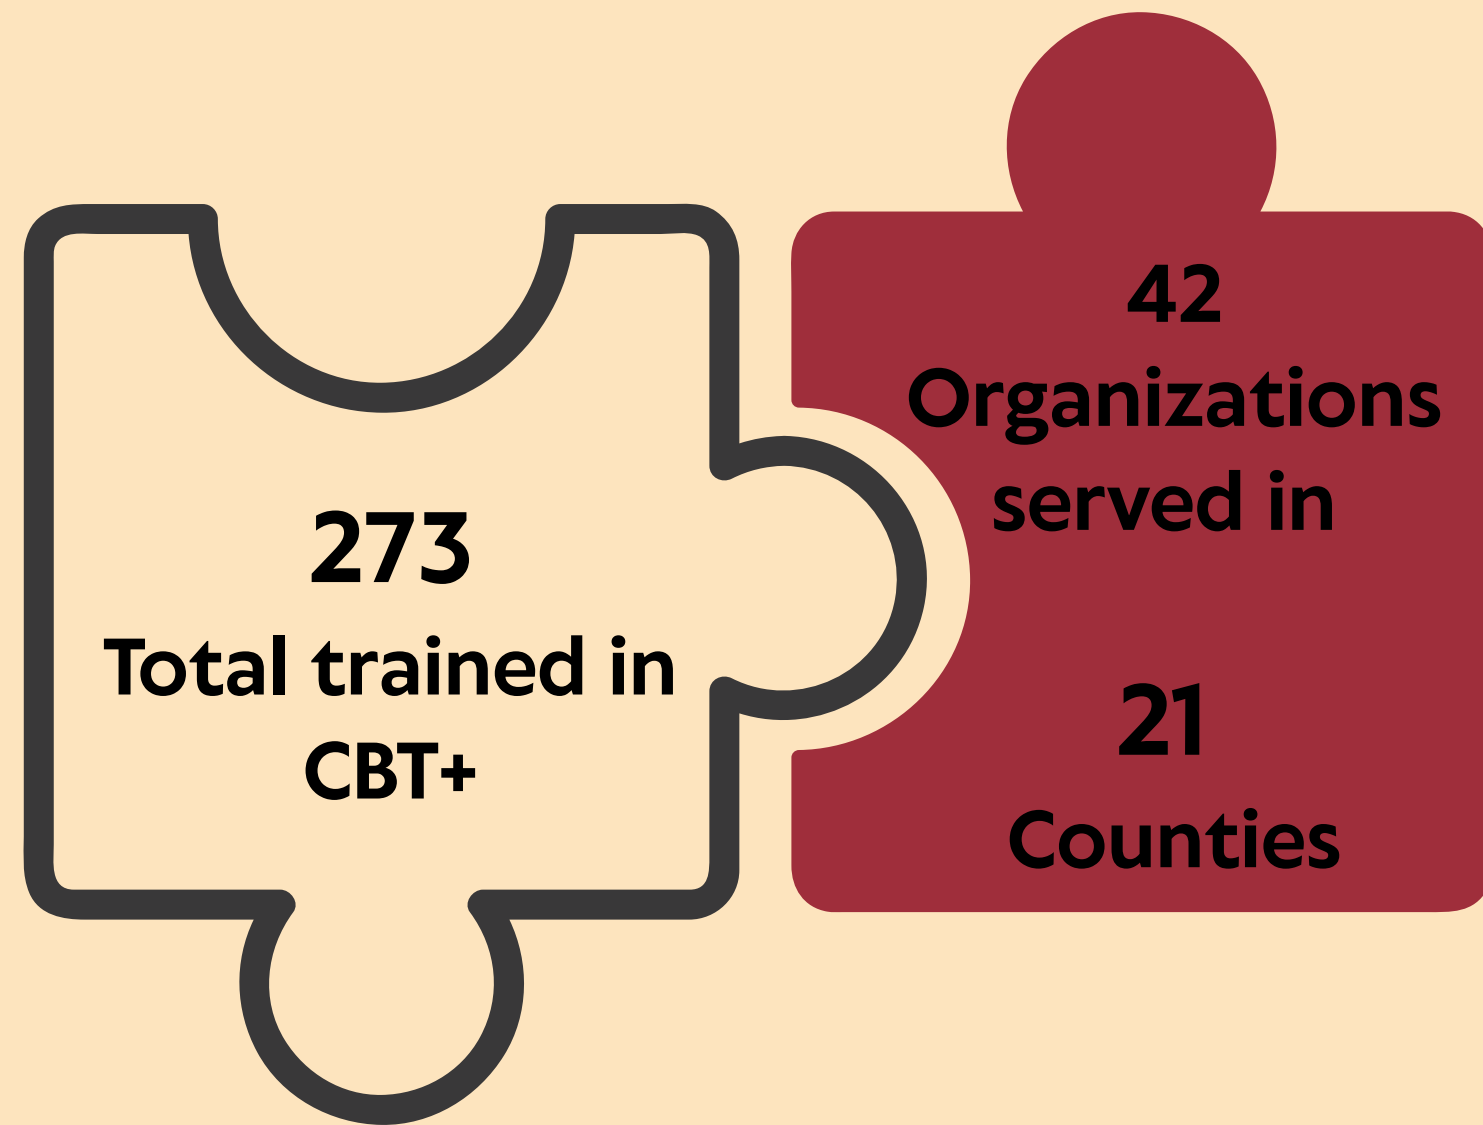

Statewide Research & Training

In collaboration with the UW Department of Psychology, HATC provides training and consultation in trauma-informed evidence-based treatments to community behavioral healthcare organizations and professionals.

CETA (Common Elements Treatment Approach) is a cognitive behavioral therapy used to treat anxiety, depression, and posttraumatic stress disorders in adults aged 18 and over.

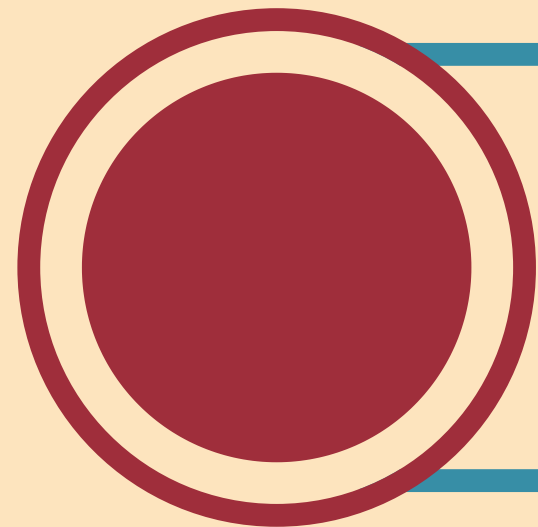

CBT+ (Cognitive Behavioral Therapy) is another transdiagnostic cognitive behavioral treatment used in the treatment of anxiety, depression, PTSD, and mild to moderate behavioral issues in youth ages 4-21.

Statewide Research & Training

Statewide Research & Training – SANE Training

The SANE Training Program has provided evidence-based, comprehensive statewide forensic nurse training since 2000. Our program provides in-person trainings in hospitals across the state, including rural and critical access facilities.
