

The University of Washington has two types of Honors Degrees: College Honors and Departmental Honors (see reverse)

COLLEGE HONORS

To graduate with College Honors (diploma will read "With College Honors"), students must complete BOTH the Honors Core AND Departmental Honors requirements in their major. Students must apply for and be accepted to their major's departmental honors program even if they have already been admitted to College Honors:

Honors Core (45 Credits) replaces Areas of Knowledge requirements (60 credits).

Though the Honors Core replaces the Areas of Knowledge, it does NOT replace the UW Proficiency Requirements. Therefore, ALL students in the School of Business must complete regular requirements in English Composition.

Note: All students in the School of Business must complete at least 10 credits of "additional writing courses." Ten credits of HONORS classes will satisfy this requirement. The 'HONORS' course prefix replaced the 'H A&S' prefix beginning Summer 2009.

Ad Hoc: Students may fulfill up to 15 credits of Honors Core requirements by completing an ad hoc project in a non-Honors course outside of the major or via a non-Honors study abroad. See an Honors Program adviser for more information before beginning the course or program.

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS

(These requirements do NOT apply to College Honors Students)

To graduate with Departmental Honors (diploma will read "with Distinction"), students must complete UW's General Areas of Knowledge AND Departmental Honors requirements in their major.
