

TWEET #CBDNA11 CONFERENCE!

New for the 2011 Conference, a Twitter stream will be available! If you would like to participate, simply tweet with the hashtag #CBDNA11 to contribute to the live stream.

Here is how you can contribute to the conference stream:

- Ask questions
- Contribute new information
- Talk with or meet other conference attendees
- Post conference photos
- Share all the great restaurants and sites you are seeing in Seattle
- All of these actions can happen during sessions, dinner, breaks, receptions, any time!

Don't have a twitter account?

You can still follow the stream on your computer or smart mobile device by searching for CBDNA11 on the Twitter website twitter.com. You will also be able to view the live feed at the registration table in real time!

Not going to the conference?

You can still follow all the action of the conference via the live Twitter stream!

Are you new to Twitter?

If you are new to Twitter or are interested in starting an account, a great tutorial can be found at the following website: mashable.com/guidebook/twitter. You can also contact any member of the "Twitter Team" we will have a "Twitter Bird" on our name tag.

The stream is already up and running! Here is an example of some of the tweets from your colleagues using the conference hashtag (#CBDNA11).
