Dock Strike Hits Seattle and Coast

From Page A-4

Bridges and Teamsters Union president Ron Fromm have reached an agreement on a contract that will go into effect on June 11.

As negotiations broke off yesterday, Teamsters and the Teamsters' Publicity Committee announced that they had reached an agreement to work towards a settlement between the two parties.

The settlement includes a wage increase of $1.50 for regular and 25 hours for regular registered longshoremen and 30 hours for regular registered men. Also included is a 2% rate increase for Teamsters.

Employers want the union to accept the agreement which includes a wage increase of 2.5% for regular and 30 hours for regular registered longshoremen and 35 hours for regular registered men.

After negotiations broke off yesterday, Teamsters and the Teamsters' Publicity Committee announced that they had reached an agreement to work towards a settlement between the two parties.

The settlement includes a wage increase of $1.50 for regular and 25 hours for regular registered longshoremen and 30 hours for regular registered men. Also included is a 2% rate increase for Teamsters.

(Continued on page A-5)

Terry Sweezy

* * *

The strike, which began on June 11, has put the Seattle and Coast region in a bind due to the absence of regular longshoremen. With the strike, the Seattle and Coast region has seen a drop in productivity.

During the strike, longshoremen have cooperated in handling military cargo and some longshoremen originating in Seattle.

Both Skaggs and Silverman emphasized that the White-House's plan to block other strike action ended yesterday with the announcement of an all-day T-Tt-Bn-Tt-Bn-Bn action. The Administration has now met its goals and the strike is over.

The White-House could ask Congress for the authority to block other strike action. The Administration has now met its goals and the strike is over.

Bridges said he expects some sort of resolution to emerge out of Congress. He commented:

"We'll take care of that when it comes."

Bridges said, PMA president R. T. Silberman greeted Bridges and said he was pleased, too. Bridges said the parties have agreed to back a strike on a guaranteed work week of 32 hours for regular registered longshoremen and 35 hours for regular registered men. Also included is a 2% rate increase for Teamsters.

(Continued from page A-4)

Bridges said yesterday that they had settled all issues except handling of a 26-ton royalty and a 2% rate increase for Teamsters. The two parties have agreed to back a strike on a guaranteed work week of 32 hours for regular registered longshoremen and 35 hours for regular registered men. Also included is a 2% rate increase for Teamsters.

Bridges said the parties have agreed to back a strike on a guaranteed work week of 32 hours for regular registered longshoremen and 35 hours for regular registered men. Also included is a 2% rate increase for Teamsters.

Bridges said the parties have agreed to back a strike on a guaranteed work week of 32 hours for regular registered longshoremen and 35 hours for regular registered men. Also included is a 2% rate increase for Teamsters.