

Repairing

REPAIRING is, of course, one of the services we want to perform for you, but we want you to feel satisfied that the repair to your car is going to make the car absolutely right so far as the particular defect we remedy is concerned.

Our staff of mechanics are the kind of men who KNOW how to remedy the defect and go directly to it in the shortest, most efficient way.

Consequently the price is not apt to be any more than for less expert attention, and the satisfaction of the service is experienced long after the bill has been paid.

REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT SPREADS THROUGH CROATIA

LONDON, Monday, Oct. 28.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Zurich says the revolutionary movement is spreading throughout Croatia. The dispatch adds that more than 400 persons have been killed at Fiume and 300 at Zagreb.

German newspapers maintain that numerous Croatian troops are still masters of the city of Fiume, in spite of official statements that they were under control. According to a Zurich correspondent, the Croats have driven the Hungarians from the city.

The Dutch newspapers today publish a dispatch from Budapest which says that in collisions between Croatian and Hungarian troops in Fiume there were many casualties, hundreds of persons being wounded. The Croatian irregulars were hoisted on the public buildings.

Troops from Otocac, fifty miles southeast of Fiume, dispersed a Styrian battalion which resisted them and took possession of the harbor. All state buildings, including the postoffice, were occupied by troops. The railway station was destroyed and the mobs and rioting spread to the Hungarian and Italian population.

KAISER SHORN OF HIS POWERS, SAYS HUN NOTE

of the supreme war council at Versailles. While the military and naval members of the council are drawing up terms of an armistice which will be tantamount to surrender by Germany, the political representatives of the allied powers are expected to discuss the individual peace views of their governments with a view to formulating a complete program to be presented if Germany accepts the terms of the armistice.

May Not Accept. The German reply may or may not prove that Germany will accept such terms of an armistice, but the President, in his last note, said:

"Should such terms of armistice be suggested, their acceptance by Germany would afford the best concrete evidence of her sincere intention to accept the terms and principles of peace upon which the whole action proceeds."

The German reply, it is contended, will be the key to the peace negotiations, and the allied powers are expected to make the decision to accept or reject the German reply on the basis of the terms of the armistice.

KAISER WILLING TO BECOME PRESIDENT OF NEW REPUBLIC

LONDON, Monday, Oct. 28.—Emperor William has no intention of abdication but is willing, if it is for the good of his people, to become president of a new republic, according to a statement attributed to the Kaiser by the press. The Kaiser is said to have remarked:

"I will not abandon my sacredly tried people, but if necessary, I am ready to become something like a hereditary president of a German republic, like the kings of England and Belgium."

SAXON MINISTERS RESIGN AS GOVERNMENT IS REORGANIZED

AMSTERDAM, Monday, Oct. 28.—As a consequence of the reorganization of the government of the kingdom of Saxony, the Saxon State Gazette has announced, according to advices from Dresden, that the resignation of the premier and minister of finance, it is stated.

LUDEENDORF RESIGNS POST AS QUARTERMASTER GENERAL

LONDON, Monday, Oct. 28.—Gen. Erich Ludendorff, first quartermaster general of the German army, has resigned, according to a dispatch from Berlin, which says that the Emperor has accepted his resignation. The Emperor has accepted the resignation of the premier and minister of finance, it is stated.

General Ludendorff resigned as first quartermaster general because the military authorities were placed under civil control. The Emperor has accepted his resignation, according to a dispatch from Berlin, which says that the Emperor has accepted the resignation of the premier and minister of finance, it is stated.

The resignation of General Ludendorff is popularly interpreted here as a sign that the Emperor is ready to accept the terms of an armistice. The Emperor is said to have remarked:

"I will not abandon my sacredly tried people, but if necessary, I am ready to become something like a hereditary president of a German republic, like the kings of England and Belgium."

of the German offensive of 1918. The plan called for offensive operations on the Western Front which would split the British and French armies and compel the Allies to seek for peace before the strength of the American Army could be available to any great extent. It was planned that if the offensive failed, then Germany would resort to a diplomatic campaign in order to secure peace.

ANXIETY TO KNOW EXTENT OF TERMS DOMINATES HUN PRESS

AMSTERDAM, Monday, Oct. 28.—The anxiety to know the extent of the terms of an armistice which would be offered to Germany, is the dominant theme in the German press today. The newspapers are full of speculation as to what the terms will be, and how they will affect the German people.

MEAN IN SHIPYARDS GIVEN MORE PAY

Long-Awaited Award Made Public — Seattle Workers Keenly Disappointed. Announcement of the long-awaited award of the United States Shipyard Wage Adjustment Committee, otherwise known as the Macy board, dealing with wage increases asked by more than 30,000 shipyard and shipyard contract shop workers in Seattle and about 370,000 others in other parts of the country, was made by press dispatches sent out from Washington, D. C., this morning.

The decision makes a nation wide readjustment of shipyard and shipyard contract shop wages, and grants increases ranging from 15 to 20 per cent, according to the dispatches. The larger increase is granted in the Pacific Coast district, of which Seattle is a part, but dispatches from the government indicate regarding the basis on which the increase is to be figured.

Seattle Workers Gain Little. It seems, however, that the 10 per cent bonus granted the Pacific Coast shipyard workers last December for putting in a forty-eight-hour week has been figured in as part of the new increase, and that the actual increase is 10 per cent. Representatives of the Seattle shipyard workers' unions say, however, that as they interpret the award, the workers will gain little or nothing.

Keen disappointment over the award was expressed by representative shipyard workers and it was the unanimous verdict of shipyard union officers that the award was grossly and unjustly interpreted by the dispatches. It spelled an actual reduction of the Seattle wage standard and not an increase. Other Pacific Coast cities, it was said, might benefit to some extent by the award. The opinion of the Seattle shipyard workers was that the Macy board had taken the Seattle wage scale, which for two years has been the basis for all other parts of the country, and made it the basis for a nation-wide scale in an attempt to satisfy the interests of shipyard workers. While this might satisfy workers in some parts of the country, it would mean, they said, that they could not and would not accept the award without a protest and would certainly make a fight for a revision of the award.

The only official statement given out, however, was from the Seattle Metal Trades Council, the central body of the twenty Seattle shipyard unions. Speaking for the council, Bert Swain, its secretary, said that the entire award would be submitted to a special convention of the council to be held in Seattle, and that this convention would make out a policy to be presented to the workers.

The award as set forth in the press dispatches, this morning is indefinite and can be considered in at least two ways," said Swain. "If it means that the basic scale of 30 cents for mechanics is set at 40 cents, and that other given helpers and laborers over the scale now in effect, it means an actual reduction in wages in a majority of cases."

To Call Special Convention. "In any event, no matter how the award is interpreted, it cannot possibly mean a 20 per cent increase in shipyard wages as the dispatches would make a clear statement. The award, according to the dispatches, is expected to reach us next Wednesday and we are waiting for advice from the executive board of the Pacific Metal Trades Council, with which we are affiliated, regarding the calling of a special convention to be held in Seattle to discuss the award. This special convention will be held in accordance with a resolution adopted at a special convention of the Council held in Seattle three weeks ago."

Not So Liberal as Expected. "The award was not so liberal as they had expected, and that they doubted it would be acceptable to their men, was the verdict passed by a number of the big employing shipbuilders in Seattle. It means, one of these employers said, would average from 40 to 60 cents a day and would increase the monthly payroll approximately $15,000 a day. The demands of the Seattle shipyard workers were submitted through the Seattle Metal Trades Council last July and were concurred in by local metal trades councils in other Pacific Coast cities. Increases ranging from 20 to as high as 50 per cent were asked, based on the cost of living since the former award of the Macy board in October a year ago."

The Seattle Metal Trades Council, embracing the Macy board award, expired August 1, and since that time the 30,000 Seattle shipyard workers have been working under a temporary extension of the agreement with the understanding that the increase in the Macy board award would be retroactive to August 1. The board's decision makes the new scale retroactive in accordance with this understanding.

Pointexter Scores Wilson as Autocrat. "WASHINGTON, Monday, Oct. 28.—"Autocracy has never been further than that," declared Senator Miles Pointexter of Washington in a speech to the Senate today on Democratic Congress.

Senator Knox in a vigorous partisan speech opened the floor gates of a torrent of condemnation of the chief executive because of his appeal for national preparedness, the greatest part of his speech to an attempt to show that the Republicans have been consistent in all their votes while President Wilson has lapsed repeatedly.

Starting off his speech by quoting that part of the President's appeal which said "the Republicans have been anti-administration," Senator Pointexter asserted:

"It is true the Republicans vigorously opposed the President when he stood for national preparedness, but when he changed his attitude on that and stood for preparedness the Republicans supported him more vigorously than the Democrats did. The President declares that 'politics is adjourned,' but says 'elect me' but Democrats to office."

The President not only insists that Congress should have no opinion, but should leave it all to him. In his appeal of October 14 he requests the people themselves to elect the most 'momentous' issues that affect them, but to leave such discussion to the government of the United States and of the Allies, while the people occupied themselves raising the revenue. Autocracy never went further than that."
