Miss M. Ward Named Aid to Dean of Women

To meet the needs caused by the growth of the University of Washington the position of assistant dean of women has been created at the suggestion of Miss Ethel Hunley Caldwell, dean of women. Miss May Ward, a graduate of the university, has been selected for the new position.

Ward, 4719 16th Ave., N. E. She was one of the most prominent women in college during her attendance at the university and was an officer of Tolo Club, honorary junior-senior society, and an active worker in the Women's League and the Y. W. C. A. She served on numerous committees while an undergraduate and made a special study of problems affecting university women.

ORGANIZED LABOR SHIPYARD WORKERS CONCUR IN APPEAL

Action of Pacific Coast Metal Trade Conference Indorsed by Local Council.

ON behalf of its twenty affiliated unions of shipyard workers with a combined membership of nearly 20,000, the Seattle Metal Trades Council last night voted to concur in the recommendation of the Pacific Coast Metal Trades Council's special convention that an appeal be taken from the award of the Macy board fixing a nation-wide scale for shipyard workers and that pending the appeal a strike vote of coast metal tradesmen be taken to become effective December 8, should the appeal prove barren of results.

The Seattle Metal Trades Council took a stand in the special convention for rejection of the Macy award and for the breaking off of all contract relations with the Emergency Fleet Corporation and the United States Shipping Board, limiting the right to vote to all affiliated unions by the local Metal Trades Council. The ballots will contain a summary of the Macy award and of the objections of the council to its acceptance, and will ask the 150,000 metal tradesmen of the coast to vote yes or no on a walkout to enforce their original demands, which the Macy board refused.

Officers of the Seattle Metal Trades Council emphasized today that the ratification of the Coast convention's action and the carrying out of the strike vote did not necessarily mean a strike on December 8, unless no relief whatever should come from the appeal. Should a revision of the award in any material respect be made, it was pointed out, a new referendum on acceptance or rejection of the revised award instead of a walkout would be the next logical step.

Make Partial Report. The committee that represented the local council in the Coast convention made only a partial report, the ratification of the appeal and strike vote plan only being covered. Other action taken by the Coast delegates will be covered in a supplementary report to be made next week.

The meeting of the local council last night was the first general meeting since the influenza ban was lifted and was largely attended. The details of the meeting was the presentation of resolutions strongly opposing the plan talked of during the war to modify the immigration laws to permit the importation of Oriental labor to relieve an alleged shortage of farm labor in the United States. The plan has at all times been bitterly and publicly opposed by organized labor, from President Samuel Compers of the American Federation of Labor, down the line.

Referred to Coast Council. The council referred the matter to the Pacific Coast Metal Trades Council for action, with a recommendation that the plan be opposed, and sent a committee composed of A. E. Miller, W. A. Hardy, James King, William Bailey and Fred Nelson to urge opposition.

George Henry Jensen, district representative of the educational department of the United States Shipping Board, was given the floor at the meeting to explain industrial vocational training plans the board has under consideration to supply trained men for the shipyards and kindred industries.

A committee was appointed to consider the plans as outlined and report at a later meeting.

That a strike of machinists in the Peterson & McDonald shipyard resulting from the alleged arbitrary discharge of union workers, had been satisfactorily settled, was one of the reports made to the council.

"BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN"

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for woman's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did. Women who are suffering as she was should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice in regard to such ailments write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its forty years experience is at your service.

tion was sent to Vancouver, B. C., for burial. The body was accompanied to the British Columbia city by a delegation of officers of the Coast district and Northwest branch of the I. O. O. F., who will attend the funeral this afternoon. No services were held in Seattle, where Kelly died last Saturday.

Kelly's home was in Vancouver, B. C., where he had resided and been prominent in the trades union movement for years. Just before he came to Seattle to take the district presidency of the I. O. O. F., he was president of the Vancouver Central Labor Council.

METAL TRADES MEN FROWN ON IMPORTATION OF ORIENTALS

Adoption of resolutions presented by Seattle delegates vigorously condemning any and every effort to modify the immigration laws as a war measure to permit the importation of Oriental workers to relieve an alleged shortage of farm labor, or for any other purpose, was a feature of the closing session of the special convention of the Pacific Coast Metal Trades Council held in Metal Trades Hall this morning.

The convention also adopted resolutions condemning the alleged misstatements made by the San Francisco unionists, which also condemned to the San Francisco Preparedness Day bomb plot, and demanding a speedy new and fair trial for the Moore brothers defendants. Another resolution adopted makes a personal appeal to President Woodrow Wilson to intervene on the Moore case.

The convention adjourned sine die shortly after 10 o'clock. The details of a report to affiliated local councils on the proposed appeal from Portland about three years ago. His sister came from the East to be with him.

Mother's Pension Act Goes to Highest Court

Whether the legislation of 1915 in amending the mothers pension law violated the federal constitution is to be determined by the United States Supreme Court. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Frank P. Hessel, representing the county, and George W. Arnold, attorney for Mrs. Rose Snyder, a petitioner, will leave Seattle tonight for Washington, D. C., to make their arguments.

The original mothers' pension law enacted in 1913 provided that counties expend public moneys in assisting destitute mothers and Mrs. Snyder was allowed a pension. The Legislature of 1915 amended the law to exclude mothers abandoned by their husbands, and Judge King Dykeman in the Superior court held that Snyder could no longer draw money from the county. This judgment was affirmed by the state Supreme court, which held that it was wholly discretionary with the Legislature to give or not to give relief on the matter.

Attorney Arnold appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States on the ground that the law discriminates against his client and does not afford her equal protection with others, which is a violation of the provisions of the constitution of the United States.

Fagged Out Women Vinol is What You Need

If all the tired, overworked, run-down women in this community could realize how our delicious Vinol, which contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates and Glycero-phosphates supplies the vital elements necessary to enrich the blood and create working strength, we wouldn't be able to supply the demand.

Dukedom, Tenn. "I live on a farm and keep house for six in my family. I got into a nervous, run-down condition so it seemed as though I would die. A friend advised me to try Vinol. I have been greatly improved by its use and am better and stronger in every way."—Mrs. H. H. Goodwin.

Burdett, N. Y. "I keep house for my family of three, and raise chickens. I had a nervous breakdown, so I was unable to work. The doctor did not seem to help me, and a cousin asked me to try Vinol. It built me up—I now have a good appetite and an well and strong."—Mrs. Loyal Palmer.

For all run-down, nervous, anemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

Capt. Truman Starr, husband of Mrs. Leah Constance Starr, 228 Taylor Ave., and son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Starr, 4223 Fremont Ave., was a member of the 95th Infantry, Machine Gun Corps, 1st Division, so long in training at Camp Lewis.

He was born at Auburn in 1892. He joined the National Guard a number of years ago, and went with that unit to the Mexican border. When the United States entered the world war he was sent to the Presidio, San Francisco, to the officers' training school, where he was commissioned a lieutenant. He was stationed at Camp Lewis and left with the 1st Division in June for France.

Resides his wife, he leaves an infant son, Truman, Jr., born October 29; his mother and father, four brothers, all in the service, and a sister, Mrs. Joseph McCammon, of Oshkosh.

TROCO

Compare Troco With the Best Butter You Can Buy at Any Price

This appetizing new product is offered as butter's successor to those who heretofore have used nothing but butter. It is made by an exclusive process—a process which gives the delicate flavor of gilt-edged creamery butter. The more critical you are, the better you will like Troco.

The makers of Troco specialize on this one product. They have perfected the method which produces the quality which makes Troco not a butter substitute but actually butter's successor.

An Attractive Combination

Troco is churned from the fat extracted from the white meat of coconuts—the same dainty tropic delicacy you use shredded on cake—combined with pasteurized milk.
