RAID BOOZE SHIP; SIXTEEN ARRESTED

One Hundred Cases of Whiskey Seized by U. S. Officers Aboard Steam Schooner.

One hundred cases of whiskey, valued at approximately $20,000, bootleggers' prices, were seized by federal officers aboard the steam schooner F. S. Loop as she docked last night at the Standard Oil Company wharf in the East Waterway. Sixteen officers and members of the crew were placed under arrest and lodged in jail.

According to United States Attorney R. C. Saunders, who personally directed the raid on the "booze ship," most of the whiskey was found behind false walls in various parts of the vessel. Twenty cases were discovered behind a secret panel in the ceiling of the pilot's bridge, and as many more in the boatwain's locker and in the crew's quarters. The hold had not been searched at noon today. The seizure is said to be one of the largest made in this district since the advent of prohibition.

The officers and crew of the ship, with the exception of the chief engineer and two assistants, were placed in jail. The schooner was placed under a heavy guard. The men under arrest are Capt. L. Alanson, master; John Ellison, first mate; George Cherdolev, second mate; Charles Gutterberg, George Pippik, Peter Ellison, Anton Slogak, August Guttenberg, John Stendock, Anton Pederson, E. J. Alquist, Martin Larson, Oscar A. Greenland, Peter Morris, A. C. Mack, all sailors, and J. F. Learmont, cook. The men are being held on an open charge, but District Attorney Saunders said he would file complaints against them today alleging a violation of the Reed amendment. This prohibits the shipment in interstate commerce of alcoholic liquor from wet to dry territory. The vessel is owned by F. S. Loop Lumber Company of San Francisco. District Attorney Saunders said government agents, aboard the United States Coast Guard Cutter Scout, Capt. Ben F. Lichtenberg, had trailed the schooner to Seattle from the strait at boarded her as soon as she docked. The officers had with them plans of the construction of the ship and had no difficulty, he said, in discovering the whiskey cache. The false partitions, said the federal attorney, had been carefully camouflaged with paint and putty so that the officers, if they had been without advance knowledge of the shipment and its place of concealment, would have met with serious trouble.

Saunders declared the whiskey shipment became known to the government at the time it was being loaded in San Francisco, and that preparations were made for its seizure long before the schooner arrived. He said that when the vessel sailed from the California city it had 150 cases aboard. The whiskey was shipped in quart bottles, without covering of any kind, except the false walls.

"The ring of bootleggers handling this shipment was so strong," said Saunders today, "that the owners of the vessel ordered the whiskey removed, fifty cases were put off and the proprietors were hoped in thinking this constituted the entire lot. The whiskey behind the secret walls remained."

"No leniency will be shown to men who willfully go to such lengths to violate the law," he says, "and the penalties which will be administered in this case will eliminate the practice of shipping illicit whiskey by boat." After the raid forty cases of liquor were removed to the coast, the remainder being left on board under heavy guard. Where the shipment will be stored is concerning federal officials, as storage companies in the city because of recent thefts, now are refusing all whiskey business.

Influenza Again Puts Lid on Everett

EVERETT, Friday, Nov. 29.—The influenza lid was clamped again on Everett again this morning by the local health board. The malady has been spreading for several days, especially among school children, more than 25 per cent of whom are out of school with influenza. At a meeting of the health board followed the suggestion. Few if any pneumonia cases have developed in the latest spread of the disease.

McBRIDE URGES CITIZENS OF SEATTLE TO GUARD HEALTH

Like most localities of the state, Seattle is not yet free from influenza cases and a few new ones are being reported daily. Keep plenty of ventilation in the home, in street cars and avoid unnecessarily being in crowds is advice that should be given here.

Dr. T. D. Tuttle, State Health Commissioner, said this morning that report blanks have been sent over the state from his office, but as yet only two of them have been returned—one from a small town in Snohomish County and one from a town near Walla Walla. Both reports said but few cases of the disease are to be found in those communities.

CARL F. HEMMICH, PROMINENT SEATTLE MAN, DIES OF INFLUENZA

Carl Frederick Hemmich of 1415 E. Republican St. died last night of influenza. He was born in Seattle twenty-four years ago, a son of the late Andrew Hemmich, who founded the Seattle Brewing & Malting Company and was one of the best known sportsmen on the Pacific coast. He was married a year ago to Miss Freda Wierbach of Seattle.

He survived by his widow, a sister, Mrs. Andrew Hemmich, and three brothers, John, Alvin and Ernest Hemmich, all of Seattle. Mrs. Hemmich, the youngest, also is confined to her room with the influenza, and funeral arrangements have been deferred pending her recovery. Mr. Hemmich's body is at Butterworth & Sons' undertaking establishment.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC HITS AMOY, CHINA; FEW DEATHS

AMOIY, China, Friday, Nov. 29.—Influenza is epidemic in Amoy, estimated 8 per cent of the population is ill. There have been comparatively few deaths.

MACY AWARD WILL BE GENERALLY OPPOSED

President of Seattle Metal Trades Council Wires of National Fight to Be Staged.

Decidedly encouraging to the hopes of shipyard workers of Seattle and other Coast cities in the opinion of union officials interested, is a telegram from the Seattle Metal Trades Council received today from James A. Taylor, its president, who is now in Washington, D. C., saying that the president of the various international metal trades unions are dissatisfied with the Macy award's stipulation that they have agreed to cooperate with the Pacific Coast District Metal Trades Council in prosecuting an appeal from the decision.

Taylor is in Washington as a member of a committee of seven the Coast Metal Trades Council sent East to prosecute the appeal the council decided to make after the president of the convention rejected the Macy award and voted to send an ultimatum to the board. The ultimatum was that a Coast-wide strike of metal trades unions would be called on December 5 unless a satisfactory decision on an appeal from the Macy award was handed down before that date.

Note Being Taken. Unions of Seattle and other Coast cities and other councils affiliated with the Pacific district organization are now taking a referendum on the proposed strike.

In making its award, which fixed a nation-wide wage scale for shipyards and other government work, and for contract shops doing work for such shipyards, the Macy board announced that the heads of the international metal trades unions had unanimously approved the nation-wide scale plan. This naturally created an inference that the heads of the international unions would be found either neutral or opposing the Pacific Coast appeal. Taylor's telegram indicates that the parent unions are at least not opposing the appeal.

Make Land Fit For Heroes, He Says

LONDON, Friday, Nov. 23.—"It is the task of the future to make certain fit country for heroes and to live in it," said Lloyd George in an address delivered today at Wolverhampton in which he paid tribute to the glorious achievements of the soldiers and sailors of the nation.

"The courage and endurance," added the premier, "have never in the history of the world been put as such to a trying and continuous test as during the present war."

PORTLAND DROPPED FROM HOCKEY LEAGUE. Victoria to Get Rose City Players — Seattle Men Named as Officers. VANCOUVER, B. C., Friday, Nov. 29.—Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver will compete in the Pacific Coast Hockey Association series this season. The eighth annual meeting of the association took place this morning, with representatives from the three cities mentioned in attendance. E. J. Bryan, manager of the Portland arena, did not show up, and as a result the directors decided to suspend the franchise for the present season. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Frank J. Patrick, Vancouver; Secretary-Treasurer, Arthur J. Small, Vancouver; Captain, Lester of Seattle and Lester Patrick of Victoria. It was decided to adopt the delayed penalty system, which provides for each team having six men on the ice at all times. President Frank Patrick informed the directors that he had repeatedly endeavored to get an expression of intention from Portland as to whether they would operate or not, but had received no reply to his several communications. The franchise was therefore suspended. Victoria being desirous of actively operating its franchise this year, it was decided to allow it to operate and to sign any of the former Portland players that it may be available for the coming season. The season will open around the first of the year, but the directors did not announce the exact date. This announcement will be forthcoming probably tomorrow. India Loy to Britain. If proof were needed of the hold which Britain has on India, not by force, but by magic of race genius and just government, it is furnished by the great war. When it broke out there were 80,000 seasoned troops in India, the normal garrison. Within a few weeks practically the whole of that garrison was withdrawn for service in France and elsewhere and was replaced as opportunity offered by territorial units from England. Until these territorial units were acclimated and fully trained and equipped, India was practically without a British garrison. Was there an insurrection? Was there a rising against small such as might be expected against a tyrannical government? It is not intended for the garrison. A few frothy orators, a few predatory schemers perhaps, but a genuine insurrection? No. The British garrison was replaced by a few territorial units from England. Early Prohibition in England. Prohibition under stress of necessity does not first make its appearance in America, England before now has submitted to it. In the years of murrain and famine, during the reign of Edward III, when the people were suffering from the plague, the king's council decreed that "thieves that were in prison did pluck in pieces those that were in the streets amongst them, and then we had prohibition. The king forbade all selling of corn for sale making bread, and so, we are told, greatly relieved the national distress.—London Chronicle. He Made Two Mistakes. Maj. Gen. Snodch H. Crowder was speaking of the efforts to get efficiency in all branches of the service. "It comes in time, but not all at once," he contends, and continued, "Just at pre-

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK. Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost. Don't stay gray! Try it: no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—(Advertisement.) HOME MADE TEA FOR CONSTIPATION. Is used by entire families because it is purely vegetable, does the work and costs very little. Why pay high prices for Liver and Bowel remedies when none are better than Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea, which is purely vegetable, can be brewed at home, and a small package will last a long time? Thousands of old people will tell you they have been drinking it for years and are in fine condition in a few days by a before bedtime cup, that only an occasional cup in afterwards necessary to keep our feeling fit and fine. People who drink a cup of Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea once in a while, seldom, if ever have any bilious attacks, sick headaches or sallow skin. It's good for boys and girls, especially those who are constipated and fretful. Druggists have been selling it for many years. (Advertisement.) SAFE DEPOSIT.
