Ask Seattle Citizens To Open Their Homes For Soldiers July 4

Three thousand soldiers and sailors who are expected to visit Seattle over the Fourth of July must be cared for by the city's hospitable families. The War Camp Community Service of the Army and Navy Department, operating the Soldiers and Sailors' Club is making an appeal to Seattleites to throw open their doors on that day and care for the extra men who will come here to attend the holiday eclebrations. People who can care for soldiers and sailors in their houses are asked to relephone the Soldiers and Sailors' Club, Main 4746, or the National League for Woman's Service headquarters, Elliott 2102.

Those who care for soldiers over night are asked to specify, when they call headquarters, whether they can accommodate their guests for breakfast and to designate, besides their addresses, the car which comes nearest to their homes. Many of the city's quests are strangers in the city.

Early Lighting of Great White Ways To Be Banned Soon

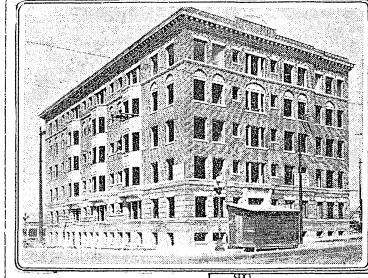

WASHINGTON, Saturday, June 29.— Early lighting of great white ways will be forbidden soon.

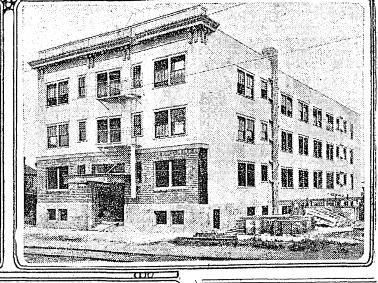

The fuel administration announced tonight that an order is in preparation which will prohibit the use of electric signs over stores, theatres and places of annowment, and advertising signs in general, after the street lights begin to show. The order will affect the East-ern states, rather than states where the problem of transporting coal is not so great.

ball yard yesterday.

Seattle won a regular ball game with a regular umpire handling one of the best games of the season on the job. The score was $5 to 2 and it was Seattle's archenemy, Pat Eastley, who took the beating.

Pat was hit hard. He had poor support, but the earned runs off of him were more than enough to beat him. The big outstanding feature of the game was the first home run of the season on the local grounds, a towering drive over the right field fence by Dewitt Le Bourveau, the Giant center fielder. It came in the eighth inning when two errors by Hap Morse had put Leathers and Dempsey on the bags. It soared over the fence about six feet inside the foul line, and cleared the boards by twenty feet.

From the start that Chief Le Roy handed out it looked as though the Black Cats were going to make short work of it. With one away, Morse and Egan tore off doubles, Morse counting. In the second Dean singled Debb's acertifice was played to second by Dempsey and both men were safe. Devlin tried to sacrifice and forced Dean at third. Eastley singled for the run, however.

It was in the tast of the second that the Giant Iusillade started. Downey warked and singles by Leathers and Dempsey second him. Chief Le Roy inserted a sacrifice fly for the second run.

MRS. ED SHEEREN GAINS 23 POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAG

Seattle Woman's Suffering of 12 Years' Standing Is Now Ended.

"I have had a long, hard struggle with ill health, but by the help of Tanlac I have at last overcome my troubles, and have actually gained twenty-three pounds in weight besides," was the interesting and remarkable statement made by Mrs. Ed. Sheeren of 3311 Fifth Ave. W., recently. "Nearly twelve years ago," she continued, "I had a very severe spell of typhoid fever, which left my nerves all shattered, and my stomach in an awful condition. My food would not digest, but would just lay in my stomach and sour and ferment and make trouble for me. I would often get up in the morning nauseated and was constantly belching up particles of undigested food. My nerves were so torn up that I could hardly sleep, and I suffered with headache night and day. I had a continual pain across my back and all down one side of my body, and was down in bed all last summer, unable to turn my hands to a thing. I suffered until was almost distracted.

"I got down to where I weighed only one hundred and thirty-four pounds and kept getting thinner and weaker all the time. I made up my mind from what I read in the papers done me more good that I ever ex-My appetite is splendid pected. now, and I can eat just anything I want without feeling a sign of indigestion or sour stomach. My nerves are strong and steady, I sleep in the mornings feeling fine. I have not felt the pain in my back and side since shortly after I began taking Tanlac, and it has built me up until now I weigh one hundred and sixtyseven pounds, making an actual gain of twenty-three pounds. I, of course, think Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world. I have the best of reasons for praising it, and hope others will take it and find relief." Here is another instance of the vonderful reconstructive powers of Tanlac, and Mrs. Sheeren is only one of many thousands who have taken it with the same gratifying results. Tanlac proved of great benefit to her simply because it contains certain medicinal properties which enthe blood and promotes a healthy appetite for nourishing food, thus helping to build up health and strength in the natural way. Tanlac has been very successful in overcoming nervousness and sleeplessness, not from a quieting effect on the nerves but by strengthening the nerves and body and bringing back be normal state of health through its effect on the appetite and nutrition of the body.

Remarkable Success Achieved by "Premier Preparation" Here Has Far Exceeded All Expectations - Demand Never Equalled on Pacific Coast,

In referring to the unprecedented lemand for Tanlac in Seattle, since its introduction here a short time ago. Mr. G. H. Bartell, of the Bartell Drug Company, the well known retail druggist and unquestionably one of the largest and best known drug concerns on the Pacific Coast, says:

"I have been closely identified the past twenty years, and in all my experience we have never handled anything in the way of a proprietary medicine that even approaches "In less than three months' time.

we have sold and distributed through our five stores, seventeen thousand two hundred and eighty (17,280) bottles, and I believe I will be entirely safe in saying that this amount of business in so short a time establishes a new sale record, not only for Seattle, but for the entire Pacific Coast states On last Saturday alone we sold in our five stores over four hundred bottles of the medicine. The sales are now averaging over two hundred bottles each and every day and the demand is increasing rapidly.

"While we were aware of the success the preparation had achieved in other cities in the country, we had no idea that the medicine would become so popular in Seattle in so short a time.

"Judging from the repeat sales and the expression of satisfaction from those who have actually tested Tanlag, and who state that they have been benefited by the preparation, Tanlac must be something of unusual

"The class of people who are buying Tanlac are among the best in the city, people who are capable of judging impartially and whose statements carry weight.

"When it is considered that the demand is confined to one preparation, it is indeed remarkable, and is in fact the biggest thing of its kinever seen in our stores."

Wickersham Waging Desperate Fight for Rehabilitation -Sulzer Picked to Win.

While everybody else is busy with war er industrial matters, James Wick-ersham, former delegate in Congress, is waging a desperate contest in Alas-ka for rehabilitation.

ka for rehabilitation.

There is no secret made of the fact in the North that if Wickersham loses his present fight he has little chance to go back again and ask, with any serious prospect of success, for support. In the national capital the same view is held.

Alaska clects its delegate in Congress in August and the nominations already have been made. Delegate Charles A. Sulzer, Democrat, was renominated after a strenuous fight with the faction that supported Gov. J. F. A. Strong. The Wickersham forces were declared to have been fined up with Strongs friends to define the supported growth of the supported for the su

Fight Apt to Be Close.

Fight Apt to Be Close.

Former Alaskans who have been watching the struggle from the outside have believed that the fight is and to be close but they have based their conclusions upon the fact that an unknown number of Alaskans have left the territory and that the Democrats have been through a hard fight.

A theory that Sulzer will be reclected is advanced by a former Alaska political leader of national reputation who has just returned from the North but who is so anxious to keep out of Northern politics that he would not be quoted by name. For whatever his epinion may be worth it is given:

"The oretically one could conclude that the Strong and Wickersham forces had combined and that the principal question was which has suffered the most from migration from Alaska—the Sulzer or the Wickersham-Strong forces." As a matter of fact that was the sit-forces.

"As a matter of fact that was the situation a short time age, but conditions have changed. Strong imquestionably lost much, if not all, of his following when he left Alaska before a hitter personal fight had ended. To the extent that Strong suffered from this cause, Wickersham has been hurt for Alaskans couple Wickersham and Strong in one fusion faction.

Riggs Will Aid Sutzer.

Riggs Will Aid Sulzer.

Time, of course, has healed some of the Sulzer sores. On top of this Gov. Thomas Riggs, who has to stand by Sulzer, has only been in office a short time and has made no enemies. He has been closely identified with the Northern territory since the first gold rush and unquestionably has a hig following of friends. He will ald the Sulzer fight beyond anyloody's ability to estimate the value of his support.

"Wickersham went back to Alaska has to gar, but did not go beyond Kertchilan, Dersonally I have been unable in inch this year that he has given this high this old-time enthusiasm. "One must readize that Alaska has lost population in all except lishing centers. Nobody even pretends to know which district has suffered the hast from this migration hack to the Stales, but off-hand one could assume, with reasonable grounds for the assumption, that there are more Wickersham voters absent than there are of the Sulzer following. Nothing but a new election will determine this fact, however.
