Permission to Release Scholarship Information

In administering scholarships, the Women's Center provides applicant information to scholarship donors and committees. This information may include academic records, financial need calculations, and personal information. We share information to aid in the selection of recipients, monitor student eligibility, and to inform donors about those benefiting from their gifts to the University of Washington. However, the identity of the recipient can be kept confidential from the public if that person prefers, and all application information will be kept confidential outside of the select individuals reviewing applications.

SCHOLARSHIP RELEASE: (This must be signed to be considered for scholarship.)

I consent to the release of pertinent information to scholarship donors, their representatives, and selection committees for the purpose of notification, selection, awarding, and monitoring scholarship eligibility. I also understand that scholarship awards may be adjusted or canceled based on changes in financial need or eligibility criteria.

Section I. This scholarship has specific eligibility requirements and guidelines.

The purpose of this scholarship is to provide assistance to undergraduate students who are survivors of domestic violence or are the children of domestic violence survivors.

The scholarship is to be awarded on the basis of academic merit and financial need. The University's Office of Student Financial Aid will determine financial need.

Candidates for the scholarship must provide confidential, independent and verifiable documentation that they are victims of domestic violence or the children of such victims. Source documentation can include but is not limited to: police and court records, confirmation from mental health providers, physicians and caseworkers. In all cases all documentation will be held in strict confidence.
