Making Connections operates due to the generous commitment from volunteers; you make an enormous impact on our program and students by helping make their dreams of college a reality.

How can YOU get involved?

- Mentoring
- Tutoring
- Workshop facilitation
- Recruiting mentors
- Serving on the Making Connections Advisory Committee
- Guest Speaking
- Hosting MC students for site visits of job shadowing
- Volunteering according to your interests and expertise (ex. grant writing, graphic design, working on database, office assistant, event planning, etc.)
- Sponsor a MC student
- Community sponsor

Whether you have one hour, a year or one hour per week of your time to donate, you contribute in ways you may never knew were possible!

1 Hour Per year... Be a guest speaker and inspire young students to pursue careers that they have never considered. Or facilitate a hands-on workshop where students can experience careers through learning activities first hand. Or host a group of Making Connections Students at your company for a tour and site visit.

1 hour per quarter... Facilitate a career exploration workshop in order to teach students by helping them through the college admission process, motivating and guiding them during these important and challenging high school years.

2 hours per week... Join our team of dedicated tutors! Spend an evening or two a week at the Women’s Center! MC provides free tutoring and academic support for our students Monday-Thursday, 3 - 6pm. Tutors help with a variety of subjects, including all the core subjects, Math, Science, English and Social Studies.

Create your own!... Unable to find exactly what you are looking for? We LOVE our volunteers and appreciate any support that an individual can offer. Without you we’d have no success! That’s why we are open to your ideas and to finding ways that you can contribute according to your interests and schedule.

Zero time?... If you want to support the MC Program and our students, but you do not have time to
